PROCEEDINGS OF THE THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL GATHERING OF THE AMERICAN CLAN
GREGOR SOCIETY

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1940

The Annual Gathering was called to order by the Chieftain at 3:25 P. M. in the Congressional Room of the Willard Hotel with twenty-eight members present. Invocation was delivered by the Chaplain, the Rev. Enoch Magruder Thompson.

Reports of the following officers were received: Scribe, Registrar, Historian, Treasurer, Editor, Chieftain, Surgeon and Deputy Scribe. Upon motion, duly made and seconded, these reports were accepted.

The following committees then reported:

Program by Henry M. Taylor, who stated that Mrs. O. O. van den'Berg had called two meetings of the committee and an interesting program had been arranged. Printed copies had been mailed to all members.

Pine by Miss Emma Muncaster, who said that the pine for this gathering came from the Robert Magruder home in Montgomery County, Maryland.

Hotel by Frank Cecil Magruder, who reported that the management of the Willard Hotel had been very cooperative by assigning rooms for the meetings and in arranging for the supper.

Registration by Mrs. Joseph H. Wheat, who urged all present to sign the registration book.

Decoration by Mrs. Philip Hill Sheriff, who reported that the members of the committee had collected and arranged the decorations in the hall.

Genealogical by Mrs. O. O. van den'Berg, who said that members were slow in completing and returning the family record cards. Miss Mary Magruder urged all members to fill out their cards and send them to the Registrar. Upon motion, duly made and seconded, these reports were accepted and the members of these committees thanked for their work.

Mrs. John E. Yonkers, of Dubuque, Iowa, read memorials of deceased members, as follows: Mrs. Isabelle Hill Geddes Smith, Mrs. Christina Duval Magruder Renninger, and Mrs. Dorothy Wilson Magruder.

The Chaplain then offered prayer and the Gathering adjourned at 4:05 P. M.

EVENING SESSION

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cecil Magruder were in charge of the buffet supper which was greatly enjoyed by forty-two members.

The Chieftain called the evening Gathering to order at 8:15 P. M., with forty-nine present. Miss Emma Muncaster led the singing of "America."

The Chieftain then delivered his annual address, which was very stirring and patriotic.

A delightful violin solo was rendered by Clifton Olmstead.

The Reverend C. S. Langlands, pastor of Addison Chapel in Prince George's County, Maryland, gave a very interesting address, "What It Means to a Scotchman to be an American Citizen."

A number of very beautiful Scottish dances were given by the following young ladies in costume: Reta May Carothers, Margaret Gourley, Martha Jean Crawford, and Myra May Pittinger, accompanied by James Garriock and Dr. Crawford, pipers.

The Honorable Lewis Richard MacGregor, Australian Government Trade Commissioner, gave a very interesting account of his experiences in Australia and other lands.

Mr. Clifton Olmstead played Loch Lomond in a soul-stirring manner.

The Scribe read letters from the following absent members: Kenneth Dann Magruder, Robert Lee Magruder, Miss Helen Wolfe, and Mrs. Grace Thrift McKenny.

The singing of Auld Lang Syne was led by Miss Emma Muncaster.

The Chaplain pronounced the benediction and the Gathering adjourned at 10:15 P. M.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1940

A large number of members and their friends gathered at Hermon Presbyterian Church, near Cabin John, Maryland. A very inspiring service was conducted by the pastor, the Reverend George S. Duncan, assisted by our Chaplain, the Reverend Enoch Magruder Thompson, and the Reverend James Mitchell Magruder, D. D., a former Chieftain of the Society. Beautiful music was furnished by the assistant pastor, Reverend Carl Bemies, and Mrs. Bemies.

After the service a delicious luncheon was served by the ladies of Hermon Church at "Glenmore," the home of Mrs. Lilly C. M. Stone, an interested and active member of the Society.

For the first time in many years, the weather was unfavorable and rain began to fall as the exercises in connection with the unveiling of a marker on the Revolutionary home of Samuel Brewer Magruder commenced at "Samuel's Delight," now called "Stoneyhurst." The large porch and spacious rooms of this handsome old home were sufficiently large to accommodate the members of this Society, and the members and guests of Janet Montgomery Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Stone, Historian of the Chapter, had arranged a very interesting program, which included singing, historical address, and account of Samuel Brewer Magruder. On the drive back to Washington the rain turned to snow, which continued to fall during the early evening.

EVENING SESSION

The bad weather prevented a large number from attending the closing session, so when the Society was called to order at 8:30 P. M. by the Chieftain, only thirty-four members were present. The Chaplain delivered the invocation and Miss Emma Muncaster led in singing several old songs. John Bowie Ferneyhough moved that the Society rescind the action of the 1939 Gathering concerning the change in rules governing the eligibility of members for the position of Chieftain. After discussion by several members, Herbert Thomas Magruder, a former Chieftain, moved that this matter be referred to the Council for further consideration. This motion was passed.

Mrs. Clement W. Sheriff moved that the Society express its regret over the absence of Egbert Watson Magruder, a former Chieftain, who had attended every meeting previous to this one. This motion was passed. Mr. Frank Cecil Magruder moved that the Society extend a note of thanks to the following for making this Gathering such a success: the Pastor and Ladies of Hermon Church, Mrs. Lilly M. C. Stone, the Montgomery Chapter, D. A. R., and the management of the Willard Hotel. This motion was passed.

The Chieftain appointed a nominating committee and then requested Herbert Thomas Magruder to take the chair when John Bowie Ferneyhough brought in the recommendation of the committee for the officers for the new year. The following officers were nominated and unanimously elected:

Chieftain, William Marion Magruder.

Ranking Deputy Chieftain, Frank Cecil Magruder.

Scribe, Henry Magruder Taylor.

Registrar, Mrs. O. O. van den'Berg.

Historian, Miss Mary Therese Hill.

Treasurer, John Edwin Muncaster.

Editor, John Bowie Ferneyhough.

Chaplain, Rev. Enoch Magruder Thompson.

Chancellor, Alexander Muncaster.

Surgeon, Dr. Stewart Brown Muncaster.

Deputy Scribe, Mrs. Clement W. Sheriff.

All joined in singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The Chaplain pronounced the benediction, and the Chieftan announced that the Thirty-first Annual Gathering was over.

The Society then adjourned at 9:45 P. M.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1940

At the Thirty-first Annual Gathering of A. C. G. Society, the Council met at 1:15 P. M., the Chieftain, Mr. William Marion Magruder, presiding.

The minutes of the Council for 1939 Gathering were read by the Deputy Scribe, Rebecca M. MacGregor, and approved by the Council.

There was quite a discussion as to rescinding the rules that a member of the Clan, by a surname other than MacGregor or Magruder, may be elected Chieftain.

Mr. J. B. Ferneyhough claimed amendment to Rules X and XI of A. C. G. Society should not have been made without permission from the heredity Chief, Sir Malcolm MacGregor, of Scotland.

We then adjourned.

THOSE PRESENT WERE:

Wm. Marion Magruder	Mrs. Philip Hill Sheriff
Mrs. O. O. van den'Berg	Frank Cecil Magruder
John Bowie Ferneyhough	Maj. Joseph Henry Wheat
Dr. Stewart Brown Muncaster	Mrs. Clement W. Sheriff
Rebecca M. MacGregor

REBECCA M. MACGREGOR,
Deputy Scribe.

SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 19, 1940

After adjournment of the final session of the A. C. G. Society Gathering, the Chieftain, Mr. William Marion Magruder, called a meeting of the Council.

After much discussion as to rescinding the amendments to Rules of the Society by striking out "and shall bear one of the surnames contained in Section 2 of Rule III" (this amendment was adopted by vote in 1939), it was decided that the Chieftain and Scribe confer by letter with Sir Malcolm MacGregor and ask permission to elect a Chieftain by a surname other than a MacGregor or Magruder, if desired.

The subject of collecting dues from members who were listed as minors and have reached the age to pay dues, was then brought up. Major Wheat, Mrs. Wheat and Mrs. van den'Berg were appointed to look into this matter.

There being no further business, it was moved and seconded to adjourn.

THOSE PRESENT WERE :

William Marion Magruder
Henry Magruder Taylor
Mrs. O. O. van den'Berg

ADDRESS OF WILLIAM MARION MAGRUDER, Chieftain

OCTOBER 18, 1940

MY CLANSMEN :

It is with much pride, and yet robed in humble humility, that I welcome you to this Thirty-first Annual Gathering of the American Clan Gregor Society. To you who have entered our courts as guests, we give hearty greetings, and hope that your sojourn with us may be crowded with happy experiences and pleasant memories.

When we pause and consider the chaos that has overtaken the world, the ruthless, merciless plundering of the small nations of Europe at the hand of arrogant and tyrannical Hitler, well might we find pride in the fact that we have not yet been attacked directly by these Nazi hordes of despotism, and that our country is still at peace with the world. But why does a sense of humility come into our hearts? Because we know that our people, our Government, and our country are just as much the object of German hatred and destruction as England and France; yet, we must admit that the only reason, so far, that we have not been attacked directly is because England stands between our country and the arch enemy of all democratic government and liberty.

How horrible must be the fate of Poland, Norway, Belgium, Holland, France, England, Czechoslovakia, and all those people who loved their homes and countries, even as we do. What would we see, could we pass through those countries and behold the unparalleled plunder and devastation of all recorded time? You would see the sacred precincts of the home rent in twain, and the ruins splattered in blood from the bodies of little children, of mothers and fathers; the homes, the churches, the factories and all the monuments of a civilization that has been in the process of building for thousands of years, in ruins, utterly destroyed. Yes, we would see more still: there remains a remnant of the people of these countries, that have escaped the assassin's bomb and mechanized force, who must kneel and bow in humble submission. Would we say that they are utterly defeated and cast down? I dare say they are not. God is still on His throne; England is not defeated. I believe the opportune time will come when these small nations that have been so mercilessly plundered by these German outlaws will arise in their might, and vengeance shall be theirs. Law and order, democratic government and institutions, shall be restored.

This foul aggression, and underhanded plundering by the German nation, against the weaker nations, its neighbors, is no new attitude of its ultimate intentions to dominate the world. From the forming of the German Empire in 1870, she has been the "highway robber" among the nations. It was then that France, unprepared, had to surrender Alsace and Lorraine to these domineering Germans.

It was the avowed intention of Germany to dominate the whole world when she struck with unexpected fury, precipitating the World War. It was declared then that every conceivable preparation for war, as far as possible in secret, had been made, and this had been going on for forty years, and other nations, bent only upon peaceful pursuits, failed to apprehend the evil designs of Germany.

"Might makes right" is the German creed, and is founded upon force. Hitler and his followers are, in Germany's estimation, infallible, and they can do no wrong; therefore, she is justified in spreading over any nation and people her benign wings laden with screaming bombs, as tokens of her love and affections; just her gracious, loving way of warning them that the democracies are about to overrun them; to take the spoils of their lands, and leave little children and women to perish. Oh, what passionate love Hitler, the despot, the tyrant, has for the little, defenseless nations, his neighbors, from becoming the prey of those evil, designing democracies! Hitler and Germany remind me of a cartoon I clipped from a paper when I was but a lad. The cartoon pictured a little fox terrier engaged in eating his bone and a large, burly dog bristled up to him and said, "What kind of a dog are you?" Whereupon the little terrier replied, "I am a watch dog." Immediately the big dog grabbed up his bone and replied, "Well, you just watch me eat your bone." Hitler and Germany are saying to the small nations, watch us take the food resources of your country to feed our armies, while we ration your people to the point of starvation.

Already such severe rationing of both occupied and unoccupied regions of France means that no one will be allowed more than what would amount to a single steak for a whole week. It means that there will be only two normal meat dishes every seven days. It means only twelve ounces of dry bread a week. Each adult is to be allowed seventeen ounces of sugar a month, while children can have about twenty-six ounces. There will be no real coffee, only a mixture with a small amount of coffee in it. There is no soap.

These are mere samples of what the French have to accept in the way of limitations. Even these restrictions, if they do not meet the expectations of Hitler, will have to be abandoned for more stringent ones. As winter approaches, France and also other continental countries will be facing a more serious problem of feeding their people. Already it appears that Hitler has been seizing supplies sent into Europe by the American Red Cross.

This is indeed a sad reality we face just across the waters, but sadder still for those countries and suffering people who are really experiencing in mind, body and soul, all the horrors of this German Hitler despotism.

In Hitler's book, "My Battle," on page 59, he says, "Hence Germany's only hope of carrying out a sound territorial policy lay in acquiring fresh lands in Europe itself. A colonizing policy of that kind could only be realized by means of a hard struggle, which would be far more appropriate for the sake of gaining territory in the continent near home than for lands outside Europe."

There we see the premeditated plans and purpose of a domineering people led by the totalitarian Hitler, to overpower and subjugate any nation or nations of people, take their country, and make them subservient to Hitler's Germanic "democracy." Jeffersonian democracy declares and guarantees a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. Germanic democracy, as defined by Hitler in his book, page 187, is, "neither Senate nor Chamber will have power to make decisions; they are appointed to work, not make decisions. Individual members may advise, but never decide. That is the exclusive prerogative of the responsible President for the time being." Again, in the same book, page 219, "It ought never to be forgotten that no really great achievement has ever been effected in this world by coalition; but it has always been due to the triumph of one individual man."

I submit to you, is such doctrine and attitude democratic or despotic? It is nothing less than Prussian military despotism, and if Hitler, the one man democracy, succeeds in winning this war, there will be created over all central Europe and England, a military power founded upon might and conquest and under the guidance and dominance of Germany, such as the world has never seen.

I have already made reference to the German creed founded upon force, the theory that "Might makes right," that Hitler is infallible and can do no wrong. In this connection I know you would grant me the permission to quote your Chieftain, Dr. Edward May Magruder, in his address to you October 25, 1917, being the Ninth Annual Gathering of this Society: "The officers of the army and navy have for a long time been in the habit of ending all festive occasions with the toast, "Der Tag" ("The Day")—that is, they drank to the day when Germany would suddenly break loose and run amuck with fire and sword among the unprepared nations of the world, like a wolf among a flock of sheep when they were the least defended. The time was eagerly awaited and the opportunity came when they seized upon the flimsy excuse to start the World War in 1914. Their conduct, in prosecuting that war showed the Germans to be the most brutal, cruel, merciless, and unscrupulous nation that ever existed. History declares that the term "Vandal," is derived from the name of an ancient German tribe especially noted for its savage and cruel ruthlessness in war, and its seeming delight in the destruction of works of art, literature, and everything civilized that came in its way; hence the quality of "Vandalism" is a natural inheritance of the German people who have left nothing undone in the World War to prove their just claim to the title of "Vandals."

If Germany's past record as a nation of brutal warriors and her foul record in the last great war, won for her the deserving title of vandal, when the historian of today sums up his record and attempts to apply an appropriate epitaph, what will his answer be? I know of no word that would properly picture Hitler and Germany as they are at heart and in deed. "Vandal" applied to them and their record in this present war is a term far too mild as I see them. It would take all the words of all languages of all the world that would present a nation at its worst, to adequately place Hitler and Germany on the printed pages of history.

No such engines of warfare in civilized or uncivilized times have been used to destroy all that civilization has accomplished to the present time; but far worse, to destroy the men, women and children, the only hope of a continuity of civilization. You may destroy the homes of a nation, leave the farms and public highways in waste, shell her institutions of learning, her churches and hospitals, reduce her cities to a mass of ruins; but leave her people, men, women and children with their liberty, and though their spirits may have been crushed, you will see that nation blossom into life again. Conversely, hold her people cowered in bondage under the Beast of Berlin and his Germanic democracy, all hope and pride of that nation is gone.

Just for a moment, consider the sad plight in which the small nations of central Europe find themselves over night, under the domineering Hitler and his war lords commanding and directing their every movement. Any liberty there? Is there any hope of ever being free, peaceful nations as they were a few months ago? Not a visage of such hope can they entertain until the wings of the vulture have been cropped, and her emissaries driven back into the foul atmosphere where they belong, and her citadels of planes, mechanism, and munitions are destroyed.

Should we not be deeply concerned about the outcome of this, the most horrible war? If England suffers defeat, as all the small nations of central Europe have already suffered, will it be any concern of ours then? Yes, we should be doing all that our resources will permit to aid the cause England and her allies dared defend. The whole western hemisphere, both North and South America, should join their resources to defeat Hitler, the totalitarian enemy of all liberty.

Hear again, if you will, the logical reasoning of Dr. Edward May Magruder in his address of 1917, which is just as true today as then: "The battles that are now being fought in Europe are as much our battles as they are Europe's; for if the Entente Allies do not win this war over there, just as surely will those battles be transferred to our shores, German guns will bombard New York and Washington, and we will risk the horrors of Belgium and France, and will probably have to pay to unscrupulous Germany the cost of the war to her—an indemnity that will stagger the world. It is ever Germany's custom to compel the conquered to defray all expenses and, with this rich country at her mercy, no mercy would be shown. This calamity might not befall in this war, but, with the vast increase in German power in case of victory, our time would certainly come in the not distant future."

Those ringing words of Dr. Edward May Magruder were absolutely true in 1917, 23 years ago, and truly do they picture the situation at this hour. For all intent and purpose, Germany was defeated in the first World War, but potentially, Germany was not defeated. She just surrendered full handed, hoisted the white flag and yelled "Comrad." Had General Pershing and the Allies carried that war to its logical conclusion, Germany would have been truly defeated. Beyond the expense of maintaining and prosecuting the World War, Germany knew no war. Her country was not marred, her highways and cities were not touched, her women and children knew no war, the greater part of her citizens did not in the least know the horrors of war. She surrendered full handed. Germany's agreement to destroy munitions and the implements of war was treated by her with impunity, and considered as mere scraps of paper. Her entrance into the League of Nations was not in sincerity, but pretense. When Hitler and his military war lords had sufficiently replenished their storehouses with war supplies, they withdrew from the League, just as they had intended to do, and Mussolini did likewise. Their actions should have been sufficient notice to all the small countries of central Europe and especially to England and France, that their intentions were to prepare for conquest, and conquest must inevitably result in war. At the opportune time Mussolini proceeded to take defenseless Ethiopia and nothing was done about it. The League of Nations did not act to save Ethiopia, or else it was powerless to act. Following Mussolini's success, imagine the Beast of Berlin and his war lords holding their council of conquest and reviewing how easily and successfully Mussolini conquered Ethiopia, and then saying to themselves with our secret spies and fifth columnists infesting all central European countries, who can hinder us from taking them one by one as we may choose? How well they have succeeded, the whole world knows.

When history reveals her truth, we may see that France was defeated from within by the Nazi spy, as much as she was by the invading army. What a pity for France that she had not dealt with this situation within her borders as sternly as England had! Here, let me warn you, my Clansmen, and my countrymen, that this Nazi spy and Fifth Columnist element in our own country is far greater than most of us now suspect. Not only are the private industries, schools, and colleges filled with them, but their slimy presence has been detected in the Congress of the United States, and in the defense departments of the nation. And they are not all aliens either. In every locality, by every true American, there should be demanded the closest scrutiny of their actions and conduct by those in authority to deal with the situation, and thereby curb all possible un-Americanism within our country.

Mexico and other South American countries are infested with Nazi spies and Fifth Columnists, and this, too, should be of deep concern to these United States. With the situation thus in our country and in Mexico and South America, it is certainly time for action on the part of our country, that we may preserve the heritage of liberty, purchased at such tremendous cost by our forefathers.

After the close of the World War when you were here in Washington in Clan session, your Chieftain, Dr. Edward May Magruder, delivered his learned and eloquent address on Liberty. In that address he drew one conclusion that I wish to call to your attention. I quote Dr. Magruder: "We see then that not all the world, even before the late war, had yet come into possession of the priceless jewel of liberty, and the portion that was free, during the past five years, in the greatest danger of losing it; nor will they be safe unless the Teutonis beast is kept shackled and helpless. This war has decided the fate of the world for the next thousand years and the time of its duration will stand forth as the most momentous of history."

Yes, the great Chieftain was pouring out his heart in what he thought, and what you thought, and what the whole realm of the democracies thought at that time, that the world would be made safe for democracy.

The beast was not shackled and helpless; he just sulked back for the time being, into his domineering confines, nursing his hatred and evil heart of vengeance, making haste and biding his time when, not after a thousand years, but less than twenty-five years, he would strike with added fury, at the very heart of all liberty and democracy.

Your great Chieftain predicted the peace of the world for a thousand years to come, upon the hypothesis that the Teutonic beast be kept shackled and helpless. The Teutonic beast was not shackled nor kept helpless, and we enjoyed no lasting peace. Had the admonition of your great Chieftain been obeyed, peace, not war, would have been the blessing of this world today. We appeased the beast then, when we should have made him helpless. Let not your sympathies enter into the terms of peace that must be written for the Teutonic beast called Hitler. Write it indelibly on your mind that no lasting peace can ever come to this world, until the war spirit of the German people be once and for all time "shackled and made helpless." This was the admonition of your former great Chieftain; I now reaffirm that admonition to you.

If we seriously view world conditions as they are today, there are two facts which we are bound to admit. Hitler and his Nazi war lords being directly responsible for both. First, totalitarian despotism, Hitler dominated, has decided to ascend the thrones of the world, as he chooses, making all people subject to his commands; and second, liberty and democracy are scheduled for the cross of crucifixion, likewise at Hitler's command. You, my Clansmen, know what progress he is making. How much real liberty is there left in France? If it were possible for him to overrun England, where would her liberty and democracy be? Successful over England, do you think for a moment that this Beast of Berlin would fold his wings and sulk back home? Indeed not; he would strike with added fury at every spark of liberty and democracy left on the earth. Would he strike at our country? Most assuredly, we must think so. For the Congress, just a few days ago, appropriated more than twelve billions of dollars to defend our country, its liberty and democracy, from this world foe. Day before yesterday, the youth and flower of this nation's manhood came from every state in the Union, by Federal command, to the registration offices and registered their names, subject to being called to arms to defend what remains of this nation's liberty and democracy.

It was these United States of ours, in their Declaration of Independence, that first enlightened the world with a correct definition of liberty, and we have ever been recognized as the foremost champion of liberty among all the nations of the earth. A government of the people, by the people, for the people constitutes the only sure foundation for a democracy; a true unhampered democracy, the only sure guarantee of our blood-purchased liberty. There is no realm in a people's democracy for the overlord, know-it-all character to function for the best interest of democracy. Enthroned the totalitarian and his factions, or the super man, or the indispensable man, and what have you? Nothing short of Hitler and his Germanic democracy. The indispensables in our democracy are, of the people, by the people and for the people; a people enlightened upon the true conditions at home and abroad, a country of people like our forefathers, who would go into the byways, highways, and hedges, build their homes, pay for them, and maintain them by obedience to God's holy injunction, "By the sweat of the brow" and not by the sweat from thy neighbor's brow; a people that will not stoop to sell their God-given birthright of liberty for a mess of political pottage. These are democracy's indispensables.

In conclusion, may I leave with you our Chieftain, Dr. Edward May Magruder's definition of liberty: "Liberty is the right to come and go as one chooses and enjoy the fruits of one's labors and the communion of family and friends without let or hindrance, but with due regard for the rights of others."

Yes, my Clansmen, this blood-bought liberty of ours is a sacred heritage from our forefathers; may we this night, beneath the graceful folds of "Old Glory," renew our vows to preserve this liberty for ourselves and our posterity.

Your flag and my flag, and how it flies today,
In your land and my land, and half a world away;
Rose red and blood red, its stripes forever gleam,
Snow white and soul white, the good forefathers sheen,
Sky blue, true blue, with stars that gleam aright,
The gloried guardian of the day; a shelter through the night.
Your flag and my flag, and oh, how much it holds!
Your land and my land, secure within its folds.
Your heart and my heart beat quicker at the sight;
Sun-kissed and wind-tossed, the red and blue and white;
The one flag, the great flag, the flag for me and you,
Glorified all else beside, the red and white and blue.

REPORT OF MRS. O. O. VAN DEN'BERG, Registrar

I have the pleasure and honor to report twenty new members who have become Clansmen since our Gathering in 1939.

Mrs. Katherine (Wilson) van der Veer (Mrs. Francis Squire), Fort Hill Road, Scarsdale, New York. Mrs. van der Veer is descended from John MacGregor and his wife Susan Price of Charles County, Maryland, whose daughter Ann married Hezekiah Dunnington also of Charles County Maryland, cousin of Misses Walker and a niece of Major Wheat.

Mrs. Emma Grace (Green) Stower (Mrs. Charles F.), Cave Creek, Virginia. Mrs. Stower is in the line of Major Sam'l Wade Magruder through his son Patrick, whose son Patrick Henry married Evelinah Dulaney, their daughter Adalina Virginia married Robert C. Green, who are the parents of Mrs. Stower.

Mrs. Evelyn (van der Veer) Schwarz (Mrs. Frank Henry), Park Trail, Mt. Airy, Croton on Hudson, New York. Mrs. Schwarz is the daughter of Mrs. Katherine (Wilson) van der Veer.

Mr. William McCormick Brooks. Mr. Brooks is on list in year book 1939.

Mrs. Martha J. (Robbins) Hocking (Mrs. George H.), 5835 York Road, Baltimore, Maryland.

Mrs. Anna Magruder (Robbins) McCleave (Mrs. Johns), 5835 York Road, Baltimore, Maryland. Mrs. McCleave and Mrs. Hocking are sisters whose third ancestor was Dr. Zadok Magruder and his wife Martha Wilson through their son Jonathan Wilson and Mary Galloway Lynn and their daughter Fanny Schley Magruder and her husband, Orlando Douglas Robbins.

Mrs. Mary (Hocking) Marbury (Mrs. F. Gainger), Selsed House, Luther-ville, Maryland. Mrs. Marbury is the daughter of Mrs. Martha J. Hocking.

Miss Esther Hunt, 100 Longwood Road, Roland Park, Baltimore, Maryland. Miss Hunt is a descendant of William Magruder of "Dunblane" and his wife Mary Frasier through their daughter Jemima who married Joseph Perry of Montgomery County, Maryland.

Mrs. Elizabeth (Hill) Dwyer (Mrs. John Rockford), 221 Seaton Place, N.E., Washington, D. C. Mrs. Dwyer is in the John of "Dunblane" line through his son Nathan. She is the daughter of Clement Clarke Hill, who was a brother of our Historian Miss Mary Therese Hill.

REPORT OF JOHN E. MUNCASTER, Treasurer

OCTOBER 18, 1940

Some little more than a quarter of a century ago, the then Chieftain told this Treasurer that he was "it." This was done without any draft that took all of the forces that could be called on a full six months to make it unanimous, and he has been "it" ever since.

In 1918-1919-1920, the amount of annual collections at a measly one and two dollar tax amounted to over eight hundred dollars, and we put money away after paying all expenses, but after the universal unpleasantness over the water was over, railroad fares, hotel bills and other expenses went up so high our members from a distance could not afford to come to the Gatherings, and they also saved their dues for home use, so receipts fell off to such an extent that we had to take up a subscription at each Gathering to meet the bills, and the tax had to be raised to the present standard. This, by close economy of the two spenders, the Editor and the Treasurer, just about comes out even.

There are just about five hundred and fifty members on the roll as listed in the year book, and a few over three hundred have not contributed to expenses for over two years, and a good many of the other two hundred and fifty are behind also. You can see it takes no financier except one connected with our present government to see that we are cutting corners close.

It is all right to save the baubees, but good Clansmen ought to cut out at least four movies and turn it over to the Treasurer to be used in extending our program in many useful ways.

REPORT OF MISS MARY THERESE HILL, Historian

I have signed nine applications for membership in the Society and have received the following notices:

DEATHS

- Mrs. Christina Duval Magruder Penninger, born 1855; died 1940.
 Mrs. Isabelle Hill Geddes Smith (Mrs. Wm. W.), born 1872; died 1940.
 Mrs. Dorothy Wilson Magruder (Mrs. Wm. Pinkney), died 1940.

BIRTHS

Doris Allison Holtz, daughter of Dorothy Yonkers Holtz and Frederick Marfield Holtz, born July 12, 1939.

Memorials for Mrs. Renninger, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Magruder will be read by Mrs. Yonkers.

REPORT OF THE GENEALOGICAL COMMITTEE

MRS. SUSIE MAY GEDDES VAN DEN'BERG, Chairman

The Chieftain, Herbert Thomas Magruder, on October 20, 1935, appointed a Genealogical and Research Committee, the personnel of which was: Miss Mary Magruder of Sandy Springs, chairman; Miss Helen Wolfe, Miss Juliet Hite Gallaher, Mrs. O. O. van den'Berg, Dr. George Mason Magruder, Kenneth Dann Magruder, and Mrs. Alexander Muncaster. Later, additions were made to the personnel of the committee; and with the resignation of C. C. Magruder, the death of John Hanson Kennard, and more recently the death of Dr. George Mason Magruder, the committee as appointed by the present Chieftain, William Marion Magruder, now stands: Mrs. O. O. van den'Berg, chairman; Mrs. Joseph H. Wheat, vice-chairman; Miss Mary Magruder, Miss Helen Wolfe, Miss Juliet Hite Gallaher, Kenneth Dan Magruder, Dr. M. M. Harrison, Robert Lee Magruder, Wilhoite C. Barrickman, G. Brick Smith, Herbert Thomas Magruder, James Mitchell Magruder, D.D., Winbourn Magruder Drake, and Mrs. Esther Pitts Stockham.

The committee has done good work, though of necessity slowly, for it requires time and patience to collect data. What has been done is only a beginning, and the committee will need cooperation and help by each member of the Clan if our work is to progress toward publishing a MacGregor-Magruder Family Book.

It has been suggested by Mr. Wilhoite Carpenter Barrickman of Austin, Texas, that a start be made on this book, of data relating to three generations, starting with Alexander McGruther or Magruder, to be followed by successive generations from time to time. Much of this data can be gathered from the year books of the Society. The parts to be similar to the year book in size and binding, which could eventually be bound in one or more volumes. Cost should be as low as possible, consistent with the type of our year book. Subscriptions to be taken in advance to insure cost of publication.

In the archives of the American Clan Gregor Society, which are kept in part in a steel cabinet, housed in the office of Stockham and Pitts, Inc., Room 925, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C., are Bibles, manuscripts, copies of wills, family genealogies, scrap books, other books, pamphlets, clippings, programs of previous Gatherings, a copy of "MacGregors' Gathering" with words and music, and a complete set of the year books of the Society. Also an extra copy of the years 1909-10 and 1914.

I wish to mention the two most recent gifts: a copy of the second volume of Register of Maryland's Heraldic Families by Alice Norris Parran, a gift of Mrs. Joseph H. Wheat, and a scrap book from our own Miss Mary Magruder of Sandy Springs, made by her of letters received by her in the early days of the "American Clan Gregor," also early programs, notices of meetings, etc. The first scrap is a letter to her dated July 11, 1909, Charlottesville, Virginia. The letterhead reads "The American Branch of Clan MacGregor," "Honored and blessed be the ever-green pine," and it is signed E. M. Magruder (the Clan's first Chieftain, Dr. Edward May Magruder). I quote the letter: "My dear Miss Magruder: The enclosed* speaks for itself, and I wish to ask your cooperation and support. I have received very encouraging letters from prominent Clansmen, and it will require very little effort to make the move a great success.

Kindly honor me with a line stating your sentiment.

Yours with great respect,

E. M. Magruder."

These two books are on display at this Gathering. Also on display are the two volumes of "History of Clan Gregor" by Miss Amelia Georgiana Murray MacGregor, the aunt of the present Chief, Sir Malcolm MacGregor of MacGregor, and scrap book made by Miss Maria Forrest Bailey, begun by her in 1907, with clippings from the Baltimore Sun and other papers as early as 1900.

The committee is asking for items for the Archives, especially Bibles.

The membership application papers are in my home. It is necessary that I keep them at hand until a special work is finished upon which I and others are now engaged; then these applications will be placed in the Archives safe.

I wish to thank my committee and others who are helping in this work, particularly those who have sent in their family data.

*Note: The enclosures were the Resolutions incident to the organizing of the clan.

Miss Helen Wolfe has completed many branches of the descendants of Major Samuel Wade Magruder (1729-1792). Mr. Almus R. Spears has contributed to this same line the descendants of Harriet Holmes Magruder Lyddane, and also data on Samuel Wade Magruder (died 1882, was Postmaster 1812); William Holmes Magruder, son of Warren, son of Major Samuel Wade Magruder, and several bits of information.

Kenneth Dann Magruder has completed his line from Ninian Magruder (1772-1820); Miss Juliet Hite Gallaher has her line completed; Eleanor, daughter of Alexander (Samuel² Alexander¹) Magruder (died 1784), and his wife, Susanna Lamar.

Mrs. Fannie Magruder Eaton of Port Gibson, Mississippi, filled in blanks for all descendants of her grandfather, Thomas Baldwin Magruder, who was sixth in line from Alexander the immigrant, through Alexander's grandson, Nathan.

Incomplete data has been sent by Miss Margaret Vashti Magruder on Patrick Magruder (1768-1819). From Mrs. Alletta Magruder Waters Muncaster on Col. Zadok Magruder; Mr. William Murtha Wilder (Ninian Beall Magruder, 1736-1809-10); Mr. Benjamin Magruder Drake (James Truman Magruder, 1768-1830); Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Magruder Erickson (Josiah Harding Magruder, 1795-1873); Mrs. Jessie Clyde Pearman Clack; Mrs. Martha Stanley Humphreys Maltby (Elizabeth Magruder Perry); Mrs. Eugenia Day Farr Rees (Fielder Magruder, 1778-?); Edward W. Magruder (Seaton Magruder); Mrs. Bessie Battey Troutman (Mary Agnes Magruder Battey); Mrs. Eleanor Tucker Vanderbrook (Eleanor Magruder Owings Snider); Mrs. Winifred David Brown (James Magruder Connell); Mrs. Henrietta M. C. Fallansbee Maynard (Clarissa Harvey Magruder); Caleb Oden Magruder (Caleb Clarke Magruder 1st).

Your chairman hopes for added information on these lines, and also asks that all those who have received the blank slips for information to return the slips filled in as soon as convenient.

The committee has had two appropriations of $25.00 each and we have sold back numbers of the year books which were given for that purpose. Our expenses have not been large. We still have a good balance in bank to our credit, according to our Treasurer, Mrs. John E. Muncaster.

LETTERS FROM ABSENT MEMBERS

5562 Hobart Street, Squirrel Hill,
Pittsburgh, Pa., October 16, 1940.

DEAR MACGREGOR CLANSMEN:

If my paper prepared for the ceremony at "Samuel's Delight" is to be read in spite of the fact that the invitation was for me to appear in person to deliver the address, another communication from me may seem rather excessive. The dedication of the tablet, however, is under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution, so I have a good excuse for sending herewith my special greetings to the Clansmen privileged to be in attendance at their own Gathering.

Rumor hath it that our Chieftan is determined to retire from his exalted office. As a part of his Administration, the Ranking Deputy Chieftan should respond likewise. You see, we follow the example of President Rutherford B. Hayes, who believed that four long years ought to be enough for any patriot before retirement. William Marion Magruder and I have been favored with our respective offices since 1936. In his case, it is easy to understand why his reelection has occurred as a matter of course. He obviously has been an inspired leader, enthusiastically devoted to the Clan and genuinely zealous for the furtherance of its noble ideals. His fine spirit is so contagious that it has been felt all the way across the Alleghenies to the Forks of the Ohio and even to the Pacific Coast.

As for me, I am inclined to believe that my retention is attributable to the adage, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder." Maybe distance lends enchantment. At least, I see no advantage in the Clan's continuance of me in office when I have not been free to attend any of the Gatherings since my election. I appreciate your kindness in my direction. To make the most of it, our experienced Treasurer might be asked if there aren't some pensions that he can hand out. Now you know that I am a Scotchman—but our Treasurer is one, too!

While reading the minutes of the last Gathering, I was surprised that the family of Greggs is "not entitled to membership" in the Clan. "Although the Greggs claim the same ancestor in Scotland and accept McGregor as of their ancestry, they are not descendants of Alexander Magruder, the immigrant." We already have clansmen, including new members, who "are not descendants of Alexander Magruder, the immigrant." I assume that only the phraseology is at fault, for we always have felt pride in being united as MacGregors rather than merely as Magruders descended from the line of Alexander in Maryland.

Since a "Farewell Address" is tolerable once in a life-time, "I conjure you to believe me, fellow citizens," that in shelving us outlanders it will be too easy hereafter under existent rules to rely solely on local talent for the supreme offices of leadership. There unquestionably is an advantage in having the Chieftain on the scene of action throughout the year; and I favor this arrangement. However, before making this policy permanent, we should realize that it would tend to shrink the national character of the organization to the proportions of a local society.

When we think of the death of some of our most valued members during the last few years, we naturally ask ourselves about their successors who can carry the torch. Reports by our Registrar indicate an alertness to the importance of enlisting at the most impressionable ages some of the youth from whom much can be expected in the future. Let me call your attention to William Magruder of Bethesda, Maryland. Perhaps some of you have your eyes on him already as a possibility for the Clan. The Quinquennial Catalogue of Harvard University, published in 1925, has only three Magruders as graduates of the university since its inception in 1636. The first of them, in the class of 1906, appropriately bears the name of the immigrant ancestor. He is Alexander Richardson Magruder, whose career has been in the field of diplomacy. Federal Judge Calvert Magruder is listed next. He is followed by your Ranking Deputy Chieftain. Now, we find the name of William Magruder in the class of 1940. As an undergraduate, he made his mark. Mrs. van den'Berg, what about corralling him for us before Uncle Sam monopolizes his interests?

Pittsburgh does not have the American Clan Gregor Society; but its best blood is reputedly Scotch, and Scottish Clans gather here in large numbers every year for competitive display of their skills in the ancient manner. During this very week, we have the rousing spectacle of Police Chief James Harris of neighboring Wilkinsburg, attired in his MacGregor kilt and blowing his bagpipes while a dainty Scotch lassie demonstrates a sword dance or the Highland fling. Both are famous in these roles. Come up and see us some time in our highlands, as did our California Deputy Chieftain, Mrs. Rees, and her husband during the past summer!

Yours in Clan fellowship,

KENNETH DANN MAGRUDER,

Ranking Deputy Chieftain.

Columbus, Georgia,

October 9, 1940.

DEAR SCRIBE:

I have just received announcement of the Clan Gathering to be held October 18 and 19, and it is a most interesting program that is offered.

My regret is that I will not be with you Clansmen on this occasion, but I do extend my very best wishes and the hopes that the Gathering will be most successful. I would like very much to attend the pilgrimage, for I have always enjoyed them and think them one of the most outstanding events on our yearly program.

I would like for you to express my regrets in not being able to be with you all in person, but you well know that I still have the interest of the Clan at heart, and wish for you all a most successful and happy Gathering.

Cordially yours,

ROBERT LEE MAGRUDER, JR.

Enroute Cambridge, Mass.

October 15, 1940.

MY DEAR CHIEFTAIN:

Again I am going to miss the Clan Meeting. I send greetings to you and fellow members.

My summer wanderings have not come to an end. I am making a visit deferred from July.

I feel sure you will have a successful Gathering and visit to Montgomery County.

In Lexington there is a descendant of Major Samuel Wade Magruder through Patrick Magruder. When I connect with my address book, I will send you his address. He is Samuel Linklater Magruder, grandson of Floyd Magruder, who was murdered in Idaho.

I saw Samuel in San Francisco three years ago. He seemed interested in family history then. Since that time he has ceased to answer letters. His sister sent his address.

With best wishes for success of the Gathering.

Sincerely yours,

HELEN WOLFE.

MY DEAR SCRIBE:

I wish to thank you for your very kind invitation to be present at the Thirty-first Annual Gathering of the American Clan Gregor Society. I regret sincerely that I will not find it possible to be present, as I had hoped to be. Perhaps another year I may be able to.

You may be interested to know that the "Thrift Branch of the Magruder Family Tree" is holding a "Gathering" each year (this is the third year), and we feel that the interest is increasing.

The meeting was held at "Fairview Farm," nine miles north of Decatur, Ill., at the original settlement of Andrew Jackson Thrift and his family in 1862.

I am sure your meeting will be a great occasion. I shall look forward to the coming year book.

With sincere regret that I am not with you to enjoy it, I am,

Cordially,

GRACE THRIFT MCKENNY.

(MRS. SAM'L DANIEL MCKENNY.)

ADDRESS AT DEDICATION OF MEMORIAL TABLET
AT "STONEYHURST," 1940BY KENNETH DANN MAGRUDER, Pennsylvania

As you all have heard, "Honesty is the best policy." With this kind of platform, anybody is on solid ground; and I am glad to inform you that you literally are standing on such ground today. The will of Ninian Magruder, Sr., dated and probated in 1751, shows that he bequeathed subdivisions of his tract called "Honesty" to several of his sons—Nathaniel, James, Samuel, 3d, and Ninian. Nathaniel's home already was located on the portion which he inherited. More than three hundred acres of the part acquired by Samuel Magruder, 3d, became known as "Samuels Delight," now appropriately named "Stoneyhurst" by the present owner.

Ninian Magruder, Sr., has been designated by Caleb Clarke Magruder as an ancestor "of the man who discovered the Yellowstone Park section of our country." He was a son-in-law of John and Sarah (Ridgely) Brewer of Anne Arundel County, one of whose sons—the third John Brewer—was a grandfather of Mrs. Charles Willson Peale. By coincidence, he was warden of Saint Barnabas' Church at Leeland when Gustavus Hesselius, the man who inspired Peale to become an artist, was engaged to paint "The Last Supper" for that church. In the Parish Register is recorded the birth of Samuel Magruder, 3d, on February 24, 1708. Through his son, Ninian Beall Magruder, was descended the late Rear-Admiral Thomas Pickett Magruder, who, like Admiral Sims, courageously criticized the weaknesses of our navy as perpetuated by bureaucrats, politicians, and "brass hats," and like that other fearless MacGregor, the late General William L. Mitchell, was punished for such patriotic conduct.

For the purpose of incorporation in 1751, Samuel Magruder, 3d, as one of the commissioners of George Town had the duty of participating in the condemnation of the sixty acres owned there by George Gordon and Colonel Ninian Beall's son, George. Three years earlier, he had been one of several members of his family who had belonged to Captain George Beall's famous troop of horse. Still earlier, he had been the fourth Magruder honored with the office of warden of the St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church now in Rock Creek Parish, where he was vestryman for many years. His father and father-in-law, John Jackson, whose wife was a daughter of Alexander and Elizabeth (Dick) Beall, were among the original subscribers "for Settling and Founding the Chappell at Rock Creek to be the Parish Church." Recorded in the Register for this parish is the birth of Samuel Brewer Magruder on October 14, 1744, as the eighth and youngest child of Samuel Magruder, 3d, and wife, Margaret Jackson.

Samuel Magruder, 3d, in his will, probated in 1786, identified his dwelling plantation as "Consisting of . . . part of a Tract of Land called Magruders Purchase, it being part of a tract of land originally called Friendship, part of the Addition to Magruders Purchase, and part of the Resurvey on said Addition to Magruders Purchase . . . "Of course you are familiar with the three thousand acres called "Friendship," which extended almost from the Potomac River to the opposite side of the Georgetown turnpike near Bethesda and into the District of Columbia. On the northwest border was "Beall's and Magruder's Honesty" of more than seventeen hundred acres. To the north and east of this tract, some of which was deeded to Ninian Beall Magruder by his father, was "Contention," also owned in part by Samuel Magruder, 3d. It was on both sides of the old Georgetown Road, slightly south of Bethesda Park.

Doubtless by this time, the Janet Montgomery Chapter of D. A. R. is familiar with the name and home of Major Samuel Wade Magruder. He and Samuel Magruder, 3d, were grandsons of Captain Samuel Magruder of Prince George's County, who seems to have been named after one Samuel Taylor, with Ninian Beall and Nathaniel Trueman an overseer of the will of Alexander Magruder, the captain's father and progenitor of the family in America. In fact, the latter grandson and his neighbor, Zachariah Magruder, witnessed the will of the major's father, Captain Alexander Magruder. Two of Samuel Wade Magruder's sons, Colonel George Beall Magruder of the war of 1812 and Congressman Patrick Magruder, were the builders of "Magruder's Folly," the mill thus satirized because of its elaborate construction. It was erected on land added to the original "Samuel's Delight," which Samuel Brewer Magruder received from his father in 1767. I am informed that the stable and barn for the Stoneyhurst Quarries occupy the site of this particular mill.

"Magruder's Folly" apparently was duplicated by my great-grandfather, Ninian Magruder, after he settled on Leed's Manor of Lord Fairfax's estate in the Blue Ridge Mountains of old Frederick County, Virginia. At least, Mrs. Maxwell J. Dorsey of the American Clan Gregor Society learned recently while in Winchester that "he was considered a very eccentric man, because he put up a windmill to do his work."

The transfer of "Samuel's Delight" to my great-great-grandfather, Samuel Brewer Magruder, probably was occasioned by his marriage to an unidentified Rebecca. Her initial appears with "S. B. M." and the date, "1767," on the stone removed from the mantel and now placed in the front yard near the old well-house as you will observe. By the time that the census for Lower Potomac Hundred was taken in 1776, the year in which "Samuel's Delight" was separated from Frederick County, Maryland, to become a part of the new Montgomery County, four children had increased the size of the family. After James Magruder, then eight years of age, had come in regular succession at intervals of two years, his sister, Charlotte, and two brothers, Ninian and another Samuel. Walter, John, and Mary were born later. Mary became the mother of Samuel Brewer Watkins, who described "Grandpappy" as a gentleman clad in buckled knee-breeches and with his hair neatly tied with a ribbon. As a planter, her father had seventeen slaves when the Federal census of 1790 was taken. He and his two wives probably are buried on the hillside behind the house. The plow of a later owner of the estate has obliterated the graves which were there. Mrs. Stone can tell you about pastimes when Ashton Garrett occupied the plantation, as revealed by plowing the field nearby. His marriage in 1836 to Ann Elizabeth Magruder, who seems to have been a daughter of Walter, explains his connection with the place.

Samuel Brewer Magruder bequeathed his home and one-third of his lands to his widow, Eleanor Warren (or Waring, according to Caleb Clarke Magruder); and his son, Walter inherited the rest of his lands not sold. Walter's stepmother died in 1821, three years after her husband's decease.

Nine years later, there occurred an event which gives to "Samuel's Delight" an historic character rivaling that given to the home of Major Samuel Wade Magruder by the temporary residence of William Wirt there. While Anthony Trollope was struggling to obtain an education in England, before he began his literary career which led to fame, his mother with three of her children came to the United States in the hope of relieving the family's financial straits. In 1830, she made this birthplace of my great-grandfather, Ninian Magruder, her temporary headquarters and enjoyed several excursions from here to the Great Falls. You can read her impressions in her first successful book, "The Domestic Manners of the Americans," published two years later.

Of special interest to members of the D. A. R., however, must be the records of the Magruder family in the American Revolution. As early as January 24, 1775, Samuel Magruder, 3d, was one of seventy-five gentlemen who met in Frederick County Court House and upheld the non-importation resolutions adopted by Maryland's first General Convention. This body also added impetus to the decision to organize military companies of inhabitants between the ages of sixteen and fifty years. The census of 1776 was under the auspices of the Committee of Observation created on this occasion and including Magruder in its membership. When the War of Independence ended victoriously for our Revolutionary forefathers, this ancestor was seventy-five years old; but since 1781, he had held the important post of justice of the peace in Montgomery County.

The Patriot's Oath was subscribed to by the three sons, as well as by the father; but, as should be expected, these younger members of the family could not be satisfied merely with the formal expression of loyalty. Ninian Beall Magruder enlisted in the 2nd Company of the 29th Battalion of Montgomery County Militia. His younger brother, Joseph Magruder, served on the Committee of Safety and in 1777 was commissioned captain by the Council of Maryland. In Arlington Cemetery on the grave of his great-granddaughter, Mrs. Roberta Julia Magruder Bukey, wife of the late Lieutenant John Spencer Bukey and the American Clan Gregor Society's first Registrar, is a bronze marker placed by the D. A. R. in recognition of her services as organizer and original Regent of the Captain Joseph Magruder Chapter. Samuel Brewer Magruder of "Samuel's Delight" enlisted and reenlisted, fighting in General Washington's army during periods of greatest despair. He rose from the rank of private to that of first lieutenant. A brother-in-law, Henry Claggett, also enlisted, but died in camp as a result of nursing a friend afflicted with a contagious disease. In Kentucky, the Henry Claggett Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution perpetuates his memory.

What was it which made these strikers against their own Government as revolutionists live in history as patriots? That Government first had usurped the sovereign power of the people, seeking to deprive them of the "unalienable" rights of a free people. It was subversive of their liberty. They knew that despotism was at hand as soon as they were "at the mercy of" rulers. They not only were alert to the ugly fact, but stoutly met the challenge.

In reestablishing for themselves a Government which would secure their rights and promote the general welfare, our forefathers were determined that not even a national emergency should justify the surrender of the people's own sovereignty to the Commander-in-Chief of armed forces or to any one else. We have the Supreme Court's testimony in Ex parte Milligan:

"... The proposition is this: that in a time of war the commander of an armed force (if in his opinion the exigencies of the country demand it, and of which he is to judge) has the power . . . to suspend all civil rights and their remedies, and subject citizens as well as soldiers to the rule of his will; and in the exercise of his lawful authority cannot be restrained. . .

"The statement of this proposition shows its importance; for, if true, republican government is a failure, and there is an end of liberty regulated by law. Martial law, established on such a basis, destroys every guarantee of the Constitution, and effectually renders the 'military independent of and superior to the civil power'—the attempt to do which by the King of Great Britain was deemed by our fathers such an offense that they assigned it to the world as one of the causes which impelled them to declare their independence. Civil liberty and this kind of martial law cannot endure together; the antagonism is irreconcilable; and, in the conflict, one or the other must perish.

"This nation, as experience has proved, cannot always remain at peace, and has no right to expect that it will always have wise and humane rulers, sincerely attached to the principles of the Constitution. Wicked men, ambitious of power, with hatred of liberty and contempt of law, may fill the place once occupied by Washington and Lincoln, and if this right is conceded, and the calamities of war again befall us, the dangers to human liberty are frightful to contemplate. If our fathers had failed to provide for just such a contingency, they would have been false to the trust reposed in them. They knew—the history of the world told them—the nation they were founding, be its existence short or long, would be involved in war; how often or how long continued human foresight could not tell; and that unlimited power, wherever lodged at such a time, was especially hazardous to freemen. For this, and other equally weighty reasons, they secured the inheritance they had fought to maintain, by incorporating in a written constitution the safeguards which time had proved were essential to its preservation. Not one of these safeguards can the President, or Congress, or the Judiciary disturb, except the one concerning the writ of habeas corpus. . .

“ . . . Martial law cannot rise from a threatened invasion. The necessity must be actual and present; the invasion real, such as effectually closes the courts and deposes the civil administration. . . ”

It is a privilege for me to have a share in your ceremonies today. My one regret is that I can be present only in spirit.

WELCOME TO CLAN GREGOR SOCIETY, IN HERMON
PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, BETHESDA, MONT-GOMERY COUNTY, MARYLAND

BY REV. DR. GEORGE S. DUNCAN, *Minister of the Hermon
Presbyterian Church*

OCTOBER 19, 1940

It is an honor and pleasure to welcome to the Hermon Presbyterian Church the Clan Gregor. Welcome! Thrice Welcome! We trust that every Gregor will feel at home in this house of God, since Gregors have been connected with this church ever since it was organized about 1716. The original church was at Potomac, Maryland, four miles from here. A goodly number of Gregors was prominently connected with it. The present church was organized January 5, 1874. Two charter members of this church were Magruders: Mrs. M. C. H. Carter, and Miss Rebecca Magruder. The following Magruders are at present, 1940, in the Hermon Presbyterian Church: J. Dunbar Stone, Lilly C. M. Stone, Frank Pelham Stone, and John Poole Stone.

We are all glad the Clan Gregor is so numerous. We cannot have too many. May they ever "be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth," Genesis 1:28. In the District of Columbia phone book of 1940 there are 89 Magruders and 11 McGregors, making a total of 100. Besides these, there are, in this vicinity, many others with Magruder blood in their veins who, because of marriage, have other names.

Many generations of Magruders have come and gone since Alexander Magruder emigrated from Scotland in 1564 and settled in Maryland. This clan has enriched the nation's life in many ways: in church and state, on battlefield and in legislative hall, in professions and trades as well as in the home. In these and in many other ways the Magruders have sown precious seed which will bear fruit for ages to come. "One soweth and another reapeth," John 4:37. "He being dead yet speaketh," Hebrews 11:4. In South America there are fragrant flowers growing, not native to that continent. They were planted centuries ago by Jesuit missionaries whose names have long since been forgotten. So we today enjoy priceless blessings planted by generations of Magruders whose names are unknown.

The English historian, Macauley, says: "People, who will not take pride in the noble achievements of remote ancestors, will never achieve anything worthy to be remembered with pride by remote descendants." We all take pride in the achievements of the Clan Gregor. We glory in the badge, "the pine tree," in the slogan, "high wood," and in the arms, "the pine tree crossed with a sword." We should be thankful for this great heritage. We must add glory to it, and pass it on to inspire countless generations to all that is noble, true and good.

We may fittingly close this "welcome" with a quotation from that great statesman, Daniel Webster: "Let us develop the resources of our lands, call forth its powers, build up its institutions, promote all its great interests, and see whether we also, in our day and generation, may not perform something worthy to be remembered."

WHAT IT MEANS TO A SCOTCHMAN TO BE AN AMERICAN CITIZEN

REV. C. S. LANGLANDS, Maryland

When as a youth I set foot on this country, I determined there and then, that this great democratic nation which had given opportunity to so many before me had a place for me too, and henceforth would be home.

Consequently the next and most natural step it seemed to me was to declare intention of securing the privilege of United States citizenship.

In this, no credit accrues to me for having reached this decision after a great amount of thought, for as a matter of fact I sought citizenship, not because of any conscious reasoning on my part, but rather instinctively as a result of the ideals and concepts of honor, duty and loyalty which had been instilled in me by home and church.

I have no patience with the individual who would blithely accept all of the privileges of residence in this country, and yet refrain from assuming the duties and obligations which come with citizenship. To my mind such an attitude is false and shows that the individual has a totally wrong concept of citizenship and its worth. The immigrant does the United States no honor when he repeats the oath of allegiance, but rather is the recipient of a great honor, when his oath is accepted and he is made a part of that great nation whose government of the people, by the people and for the people is our sacred heritage. It is at the same time my solemn duty, and yours, to see to it that that form of government shall not be trampled off the earth.

If one discounts the emotions aroused as one renounces allegiance to all foreign rulers, especially that of his former country, and takes the oath of allegiance to these United States, then one can say it is not a hard thing for a Scotchman to become an American citizen. By this I mean there is no sense of renouncing or adding to any of the fundamental ideals or concepts that one has. The transition from Scotchman to American is an easy one for the simple reason that underlying the philosophy of life and the system of ethics common to both, is the Christian way of Life.

Nations cannot long exist save in the presence of a firm and enduring faith in a Supreme Being Who is all good and all powerful. Our nation was built upon this principle and only from this belief in God does man assume any rights, responsibilities or human freedom. Man is nothing apart from God, and if we permit our Christian beliefs and ideals to perish or be destroyed, then human freedom will not long endure.

It is not an accident that in some countries governed by dictators, religion has been attacked and outlawed. It is a necessity of dictatorship that man must be stripped of his dignity and importance, must be taught that he has no rights or responsibilities as a human being, but is a mere creature of a state, to live and die as the dictator wills, and that teaching involves destroying faith in a Supreme Being.

By our Constitution and Government we declare to the world our fundamental belief in God, and correlative with and issuing from that belief, our belief in the worth, and the dignity and the importance of the individual soul.

By our Constitution and Government we declare to the world that each and every individual citizen is entitled to freedom of thought and speech and worship as conscience directs.

By our Constitution and Government we declare to the world that ours is a nation where the supreme power of government is still retained by the people and exercised through duly appointed and freely appointed officers of state.

This is not a time for any smug complacency on our part. The materialistic disease which has infested other parts of the world is in America, too. We must watch lest we, like the self-righteous Pharisee, pray, "I thank thee God that I am not as other men are."

The continued greatness of America as a nation depends on the greatness of the individual who are her citizens. If we as a nation would retain our place in the world, we must acquit ourselves as men of noble, high and pure character.

We must have an unselfish concept of the right to liberty, that in our determination to be free individuals we do not become slaves to the idea that we have the inalienable right to live as we choose, regardless of the rights and privileges of our fellow citizens. That is not democracy. The minute I step outside the limits of my own yard I am regulated by the rights and the privileges of others. That is democracy.

We must be awakened to a new and higher sense of our responsibility to observe the laws of our country, while they are the laws of our country. If they are wrong, or unjust, then they can and should be repealed, but until such times they are the law.

We must always guard against false loyalty, remembering that principle is above party.

We must be willing and ready to cooperate with and serve and support our nation how and when we best can, for the benefit of all.

The chaotic world situation is a challenge to every true and loyal American to evaluate his citizenship, and to analyze it that he may see upon what foundations it rests, and to determine that cost, what it may, he will be willing to pay the price in effort and sacrifice to preserve these ideals and so assure for ourselves, our children and our children's children, those things that contribute to our greatness and belong to our peace.

ISABELLE HILL GEDDES SMITH
April 9, 1872—July 16, 1940

ISABELLE HILL GEDDES SMITH

BY SUSIE MAY GEDDES VAN DEN'BERG

With the passing away of Isabelle Hill Geddes Smith an almost twin sister was lost to me. Our birth dates were very close, and our mother dressed us alike—only my ribbons were always blue, and Isabelle's pink, which color, together with her lovely Scotch chestnut-red hair set off the beauty of her brown eyes; eyes which retained their brilliance to the last.

For the past several years Mrs. Smith was a semi-invalid, though during those years she did not give up her interest in events and activities, but gave her services gladly and joyously to organizations and church societies, by her book reviews—notably "The Women of the Bible," which held the rapt attention of her hearers, so strong was her personality and clear her deliverance.

Mrs. Smith was a well-known lecturer and book reviewer, and well fitted for this especial work, being of a dramatic temperament and having a strong, well-trained speaking voice. She had taken courses at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., and at our own Harvard; also at Oxford, Cambridge and the University of London.

Mrs. Smith was Past President of the District of Columbia Branch of the National League of American Pen Women, a member of Magruder Chapter, District of Columbia, Daughters of the American Revolution, to which she had transferred from the Army and Navy Chapter; also a member of American Clan Gregor Society, the Guadeloupe Society of 1848, and other patriotic and historical groups. During the World War she was an active worker in Community Service in Washington, D. C., being in charge of the recreational facilities for the soldiers at Central High School, and assisting at other schools and with pageants and other entertainments.

Prior to going to Hawaii in 1922 she was First Reader of Second Church of Christ, Scientist, Washington, D. C. On her return she joined Third Church of Christ, Scientist, of which she was a member at the time she passed on.

Mrs. Smith was born April 9, 1872, in the family home, 220 First Street, N.E., the site of the present Senate Office Building.

She was the second child of Charles Wright Geddes, a naval officer in the War with Mexico, and his wife, Annie Reed Hill, both Marylanders. Her mother was the daughter of William Wilson Hill of "Glenway," a part of Baltimore Manor, and his wife, Mary Thomas Magruder.

In 1896 she married William Wolff Smith, who at that time was connected with the Baltimore Sun. They made their home continuously in Washington, D. C., and she can be quoted as saying she considered it a privilege to live in the Capital City. Of late years they occupied an apartment in The Highlands.

Mrs. Smith passed on at Garfield Hospital on July 16, 1940. Four of her six sisters survive her, but her two brothers passed away years ago. The younger, Robert William Geddes, saw service in the Philippines.

Isabelle was well beloved by a wide circle of friends and a very numerous family connection; her passing will be deeply grieved and her personal presence among us greatly felt, though such as she can never be truly gone, though—

Lost from my sight and vanished from all eyes,
She is not what she was in other years;
Although, I think, her fragile ghost appears,
Smiling with spring, recalling clearer skies
Over those fields where summer blooms and dies.
I think, with falling leaves, fall down her tears,
Lost in those winds which silence all replies.
She who was beauty is a little ghost;
The residue of beauty, April seed.
I think she walks those lanes that she loved most Along dark meadows where dim stars may lead,
Not what she was, but all that she shall be—
Immortal memory.

BRANSON BLAKE.

It is wise for us to recur to the history of our ancestors. Those who regardless of their ancestors and their posterity, who do not look upon themselves as a link connecting the past with the future, in the transmission of life from their ancestors to their posterity, do not perform their duty to the world.

To be faithful to ourselves we must keep both our ancestors and their posterity within reach and grasp of our thoughts and affections; living in the memory and retrospect of the past and hoping with affection and care for those who are to come after us.

We are true to ourselves only when we act with becoming pride for the blood we inherit and which we are to transmit to those who shall fill our place.

DANIEL WEBSTER.

"Children's children are the crown of old men; and the glory of the children are their fathers."—Proverbs, Chapt. 17, V. 6.

"He who careth not whence he came, careth little whither he goeth."

CHRISTINA DUVAL MAGRUDER RENNINGER

BY CATHERINE ADALINE (SLOANE) O'LOUGHLIN, Maryland

Christina Duval Magruder Renninger, the daughter of Haswell Magruder and Adeline Elizabeth Boyd, who were married July 5, 1832, was born January 16, 1855, in Prince George's County, Md., and died May 26, 1940, at the age of 85, at the home of her grand-niece, Mrs. Thomas B. O'Loughlin, 601 Arlington Avenue, Baltimore, Md.

She spent her early childhood at the old Magruder home, "Ample Grange," located on the upper Patuxent River, in the eastern section of Mitchellsville District. Many times I have heard her reminisce of those days, and the exciting period of the Civil War, when she, then about 8 years old, her sister Jane, young brother Fielder, and mother saw their home become a rendezvous for Confederate soldiers, and her father sent to Fort Delaware prison because of his too fervent sympathies for the Southern cause.

At the age of twenty, she went to Washington to live with her oldest sister, Mary Caroline, who was married and made her home in that city. While there, she became acquainted with Henry Drey Renninger of Pennsylvania, who was at that time in the contracting and building business. They were married January 26, 1875, at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, D. C.

She lived in Washington a number of years, and got much pleasure from her many fine friendships and varied interests offered by that city. She was especially interested in matters pertaining to politics, and was a frequent visitor at the House of Representatives.

My great-aunt did not have any children of her own, but her home was never without one, or maybe two, of her young nieces or nephews, who often spent months at a time with her. Many interesting stories are told by these nieces and nephews, now with grown families of their own, about the fun and good times they used to have at Aunt Tenie's, as she was affectionately called. She and her husband loved young people, and were always planning things for their enjoyment.

Her next home was a beautiful resort farm, located on the Potomac about forty miles from Washington, known as Clifton Beach. This was the scene of many good times, and one particularly interesting incident took place in October of 1903, when Prof. L. P. Langley and his associates made Clifton Beach their headquarters while making the test flight of the Langley aeroplane. Years later, members of that party told of Aunt Tenie's hospitality, and how much they enjoyed staying at Clifton Beach.

A few years later, she again returned to make her home in Washington. After the death of my mother, who had always seemed like a daughter to her, she moved to Baltimore. I was only 12 years old at the time, and it seemed the natural thing that I should make my home with Aunt Tenie. There followed many happy years for me to experience her loving care and companionship. I was with her for her Golden Wedding Anniversary, many birthday parties and other gatherings, and I grew up to realize that she was indeed a remarkable woman, whose mind was ever keen, with a store of knowledge and wit that made her always the center of attraction.

After the death of her husband in 1932, when she was beginning to advance in years, she still retained an active mind and body, and made regular visits every summer to see her sister, my grandmother, Jane Magruder Adams, now aged 91.

Her health began to fail only a year ago, but when the end came she was fully prepared. Although we still can't realize that "Aunt Tenie" is with us no longer, her spirit will be ever present and fond recollections of her goodness and kindness will always be the topic of conversation when those who knew and loved her are gathered together.

Christine Duval Magruder was the daughter of Haswell Magruder II and Adeline Elizabeth Boyd; granddaughter of William Magruder and Elizabeth Hilleary; great-granddaughter of Haswell Magruder and Charity Beall; great-great-granddaughter of Captain Samuel Magruder and Jane Haswell; great-great-great-granddaughter of Samuel Magruder II and Eleanor Wade; great-great-great-great-granddaughter of Col. Samuel Magruder and Sarah Beall; and great-great-great-great-great-granddaughter of Alexander Magruder, Maryland immigrant.

MRS. DOROTHY WILSON MAGRUDER

BY MARY THERESE HILL, Maryland

Mrs. Dorothy Wilson Magruder, a valued Associate member of American Clan Gregor Society, passed away after an illness of several months on July 28, 1940, at the old Wilson home, "Woodside," in Silver Springs, Montgomery County, Maryland.

Mrs. Magruder was the daughter of Richard Thomas and Laura Canby Wilson, and widow of the late William Pinkney Magruder. She leaves only one surviving member of her family, her brother, Frank Wilson, of Washington State.

She grew to womanhood at "Woodside," and was educated by a highly trained governess, as was the custom of that era, and was thoroughly trained in the art of being a well poised and charming woman of most pleasing personality.

She was a member of the Ridgely Brown Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and of the Vansville Farmers Club, a most faithful member of the Woman's Guild of Grace Episcopal Church of Woodside, also an honorary member of the Riverdale Guild.

After her marriage to Mr. Magruder in 1915, she lived in Hyattsville, Maryland, where she soon became endeared to a large circle of friends who greatly admired her charming personality and strength of character, warmness of heart and great charity; for, like her distinguished husband, her gentle heart was always ready to help those who came to her notice in need of aid. She will long be remembered and her beautiful Christian life left a wholesome example to the community. During her life in Hyattsville she was a valued member of the Pinkney Memorial Episcopal Church and was a member of the Woman's Guild of that church.

She survived her husband only a year, as the constant strain of caring for him through three long years of ill health took its toll of her endurance, and as ill health fastened upon her a longing for the ancestral home of her childhood, "Woodside" grew upon her. She went there to spend the remaining few months of her life, where she was most carefully cared for by a loving niece,

Mrs. Mildred McNulty Clark, whom Mrs. Magruder had raised from early childhood, and to whom she had deeded "Woodside" some years ago.

Mrs. Magruder's funeral was held in Grace Episcopal Church at Woodside and she was laid to rest beside her mother in the beautiful, peaceful cemetery belonging to the church, the ground for which was given by her grandfather, Thomas Noble Wilson.

NEWS OF CLAN MEMBERS

DR. MAXWELL J. DORSEY, chief in the division of pomology, who on October 1 became the new head of the Department of Horticulture at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture by appointment of the Board of Trustees, has been a member of the staff for the past 15 years and is recognized as one of the leading horticulturists of the country.

Born in Dresden, Ohio, May 31, 1880, Dr. Dorsey gathered experience and training in half a dozen states before coming to Illinois in 1925. He spent one term at Ohio Northern University, Ada, in 1902 and from 1902 to 1906 attended Michigan Agricultural College, East Lansing, where he received the degree of bachelor of science in agriculture. From 1908 to 1913 he attended Cornell University, Ithaca, receiving the master of science degree from that institution in 1910 and his doctor's degree in 1913.

He had charge of the Fruit Breeding work at the University of Minnesota from 1912 to 1921, and was head of the Horticulture Department, University of West Virginia, from 1921 to 1925, before coming to Illinois.

See year book for 1938 for Dr. Dorsey's line of descent from Alexander Magruder, immigrant.

Many and elaborate were the praises of the music critics and musicians in Tokyo, Japan, of Miss Mary Estelle Iwamoto, violinist, in her recital on November 3rd. She was accompanied by the symphony orchestra, and played all movements of the Bach and Beethoven Concertos.

Miss Iwamoto is the granddaughter of Mrs. J. W. Magruder, and niece of our former Deputy Chieftain, Kenneth D. Magruder of Pittsburgh, Pa. Though only fourteen years of age, she is known throughout all Japan as an exceedingly gifted artist soloist.

Proudly do we extend our congratulations to this musical genius.

The new submarine, U. S. S. Gar, was placed in commission recently at New London, Conn., under command of Lieut. Donald McGregor.

Lieut. McGregor is a native of Washington. He was graduated from Central High School in 1922 and the Naval Academy in 1926, entering the submarine service soon thereafter.

Miss Rosabella Cooper of Ashland, Va., had one of her water colors—the first she ever had offered for exhibition—accepted for the ninth annual exhibition of Maryland artists at the Baltimore Museum of Art, March 7 to April 7, 1941.

The work is "Thistles and Goldenrod," and is one of a comparatively small number that Miss Cooper has done of flowers.

A native of Baltimore, Miss Cooper studied at the old Maryland Institute of Art and Design in Baltimore.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized in Cleveland, Tuesday, January 21, 1941, when Miss Nancy Bedford Harrison, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Marion M. Harrison of Cleveland, became the bride of Reverend Harold Caldwell Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Williamson of Lexington, Ky.

The marriage vows were exchanged in St. Mary's Chapel of Trinity Cathedral, with the Right Rev. B. D. Tucker, D.D., Episcopal Bishop of Ohio, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Williamson will make their home in Cleveland, where Mr. Williamson is rector of St. Mathew's Church.

Miss Mary Aliene Magruder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Magruder, of Lexington, Ky., and Mr. Thomas Langstaff Herb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Joseph Herb, of Corbin, Ky., were married quietly in Louisville, Ky., on April 6, 1940.

At home, 1046 Fontaine Road, Lexington, Ky.

Announcing a son, Marion Milton, II, born to Lieut. and Mrs. Marion Milton Magruder, of Quantico, Va., on April 29, 1940.
