Sir Malcolm wrote the following in connection with the picture which is resting on the stand between himself and Lady MacGregor in the photograph on the opposite page :

"This print is done from a life size painting of Sir Evan Murray MacGregor, which hangs at Edinchip. It shows him as he appears at King George the IV Levee at Holyrood in 1822. I still possess the coat, waistcoat and hilt which he is wearing. The sword was originally two handed and was used by MacGregor of Glenstrae in the Battle of Glen Fruin against Colquhouns in 1605. It was cut down to a single handed sword by Major Evan MacGregor and was used by him in the '45s. Major Evan was Aide de Camp to Prince Charlie who presented him with the dirk which Sir Evan is wearing in the picture. The Scabbard which is finely carved is made of heather wood."

FROM THE CHIEFTAIN . . .

A CALL TO DUTY

Organization of Our State Groups

For forty-three years our Society has relied entirely on a few loyal and devoted officers, living in and around our National Capital, to manage all the affairs of our national organization. It has grown in many ways since its initial Gathering. However, unlike a business organization, it is continually undergoing great changes. Some members pass on to serve our Supreme Chieftain, others are unable to answer the call to the Gathering and due to their infirmities, etc., must remain many miles away. Their interest is still keen and they are most anxious to learn, at first hand, what went on at the Gathering. They may be able to read the fine print in the year book, but that does not take the place of personal contact with some one who was there. We MacGregors are still clannish. We love to get together. Our strength in the past has been in the strength of the Clan, acting as a unit and not as individuals.

So we find today that all our problems are still being solved from Washington. Our state groups should enter the picture.

It is believed that it is time to become better acquainted throughout the land. Practically little or no work has been undertaken within the states, by the State Deputy Chieftains to organize their state membership, into a single or other groups. This is not an easy problem. While our ancestors settled in Maryland and there are still a goodly number around, there are Scots who have traveled the country over to find their hills and locks—something to remind them of their native country.

The directory in the back of our past year books has been alphabetical. A study shows that in some States we are still not represented (Delaware, Idaho, Kansas, Maine, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont and Washington.) We need help badly here—a State Deputy Chieftain and a start.

In other States such as Minnesota, we have only one member, our new State Deputy Chieftain—a famous retired surgeon. In Idaho, there is also only one member and he became inactive 1949. However, in other States, we have many members but they never get in contact in any way except at the annual Gatherings. Hereafter the directory will be by States under the State Chieftains. Why should we organize? For friendly contact, however, by organization the potential work value of the members can be greatly increased for many of our necessary activities. Some of these are:

- A. Continual search for new members. Study city telephone directories.
- B. Research within the state for genealogical data and events of especial interest to the Society. This research of State, County and Church records has paid huge dividends for the D.A.R. and could help particularly in these States where our early generations lived. It is interesting work.
- C. Keep contact with present members through local meetings several times a year. One meeting if possible before October to work up interest in a journey to the Gathering in October. One meeting after to give those not present the news they desire. Contact of some kind, telephone in own town or small meetings, letters to places farther away, occasional trips by car to local meetings, etc. Keep alive the traditions and history of the Clan.

The details of organization should be very simple. No dues. Each group to make their own. How coordinated? It is hoped that when special efforts are being made such as membership, etc., that the Ranking Deputy Chieftain will be able to devote a little time towards extending helpful advice and secure if possible some coordination of the efforts of the State groups where coordination is really needed. It is hoped that eventually we shall have State groups large enough to reserve a table at the annual Gathering in the State's name. We are all anxious to see the announcement of the organization of the first state group and hope they will be able to be honored by a full table six or eight at the annual Gathering, October, 1953.

In addition to membership, research and contacts already briefly discussed above, there is another important work that we all, but especially the State groups can assist in and that is the efforts to build up our endowment fund. It is our hope that before very long now we should be able to announce the full committee appointments of the fellow clansman who will control the securing of funds and bequests, the safeguarding and investment thereof, the actual expenditure of such funds for the purposes indicated by contributions for the Society, and have custody of the funds. Elsewhere in the year book will be found a brief announcement of work which it is hoped will be done by the Endowment Committee.

The names of the State Deputy Chieftain will be found in the directory, heading the list of members in each State. Any clansman who desires to assist his State Deputy Chieftain in the work of organizing the State Unit should get in contact as soon as possible with his State Chieftain and report for duty.

MARSHALL MAGRUDER,
Chieftain.

GREETINGS

By

SIR MALCOLM MACGREGOR OF MACGREGOR

COMMODORE MAGRUDER AND CLANSFOLK:

I must thank you all from my heart for the wonderful welcome you have given to my wife and me and the very kind terms in which your Chieftain has introduced me.

Last year I sent a message of greetings to the American Clan Gregor Society on the occasion of their 42nd Annual Gathering in which I expressed my deep regret that I had never been able to attend one of your Gatherings in person and the hope that I might be able to do so on some future occasion. At the time that I wrote this I felt that this was a pious hope which was not very likely to be realized, and it is only due to your generous hospitality that we are here tonight.

It gives me particular pleasure to be present on this important occasion—the tercentenary of the settling of your Forefather Alexander in Maryland and it is very gratifying to see such a large number of clansfolk gathered together to honour his memory.

What a wonderful thing this Clan spirit is. For centuries in Scotland it has held together the descendants of a common ancestor and now we see evidence here tonight of this same spirit in America where the descendants of Alexander Magruder are gathered together.

The survival of this spirit is particularly remarkable in the case of Clan Gregor when one realizes that an Act of Parliament was passed proscribing the name MacGregor and ordering that every MacGregor should take some other name on pain of death. This Act remained in force for some two hundred years and there is a letter under the Signet dated 1603, February 24th, James by the grace of God to our Sheriffs. "We, with a great number of our Nobility and Council having convened upon the matter of the wicked race of Clan Gregor, it is found that God cannot be appeased nor the country relieved unless that unhappy and detestable race be extirpated and rooted out and never to have rest or remain within this country hereafter." And he orders the MacGregors to be hunted and pursued with fire and sword.

But in spite of this and other penal Acts Clan Gregor has survived and in the words of Sir Walter Scott printed on the head of your programme "MacGregor despite them shall flourish forever."

Underneath this quotation appears my coat of arms. I wonder how many of you know the origin of the tree? The King was out hunting when he was attacked by a wild boar which pinned him to the ground but it was not etiquette for any one to intervene in the King's sport without his permission. The Chief of Clan Gregor who was taking part in the chase and who bore the same name as myself, Malcolm, asked permission to which the King replied "E'en do and spare nocht". Malcolm was a very powerful man and he tore up an oak sapling by the roots and beat off the infuriated animal. That it the origin of the oak tree eradicated in my arms. "E'en do and spare nocht" has been one of our mottoes ever since and although it is hundreds of years old this motto might well inspire everyone today.

Now I feel I have taken up quite enough of your time as we have a long and interesting programme before us. May I say once more how glad I am to be here, and in conclusion I hope that if any one of you visit Scotland you will come to Edinchip and see us. You will be sure of a welcome as warm as that which you have given us.

Edinchip,
Locheearnhead, Scotland
30th January 1953

Commodore John Holmes Magruder, Jr.
Chieftain, American Clan Gregor Society.

MY DEAR JOHN:

I am writing this letter to you to ask you to convey to the American Clan Gregor Society the thanks of my wife and myself for the wonderful hospitality we received from you all during our visit to the United States.

It gave us both the greatest pleasure to have the opportunity of meeting our American Clansfolk and the warmth of their welcome touched our hearts. Our visit will always be a most lovely memory and our lives will be all the richer for the friendships we made. I would like so much to take this opportunity of thanking everyone who contributed to our visit. As it is impossible to wish to each one individually, I hope this letter could be included in your Year Book.

I extend to you one and all the most cordial invitation to visit us at Edinchip and I hope it may be possible for many of you to come to this country in the not too distant future.

Yours Affect'ly,
MALCOLM MACGREGOR
OF MACGREGOR

DEAR CLANSMEN:

In looking backward over the few years that I had the honor of being your Chieftain, there are many very happy memories of our Gatherings. What little I was able to accomplish owes its success to the splendid cooperation extended by the Council and the officers of our Society as well as the other members of the Clan whom I had the good fortune to meet.

I am particularly grateful to the members who supported me in my effort to entice our Hereditary Chief from his native heath to attend, with Lady MacGregor, our celebration of the 300th anniversary of the coming of Alexander Magruder to Maryland. I have been asked by the Editor of our Year Book to write a few lines on their visit.

The visit of Sir Malcolm and Lady MacGregor was a memorable one. They won our hearts and departed our Shores with our sincere thanks and appreciation—having brought us, through this personal contact, so much closer to the hills and lochs of our ancestors.

General Marshall Magruder and his wife, my Mrs. Magruder and myself met Sir Malcolm's plane at the National Airport (when it finally did arrive after many hours delay en route due to engine trouble). We conducted them to the Sulgrave Club on Dupont Circle where they occupied the "bridal suite" as guests of the Clan.

After the strenuous air trip they were allowed time to rest before the Gathering, broken into by short sightseeing trips conducted by your Deputy Chieftain and his wife or by Mrs. Magruder and myself. As Lady MacGregor had never been to America, and Sir Malcolm only once many years ago as a midshipman in the Royal Navy, they were most interested and enthusiastic over the beauties of our Capital City. Through the courtesy of the Superintendent of Mt. Vernon, Mr. John Beverley Riggs, our party was personally conducted through the Mansion and grounds and afterwards a delightful tea was served by the Board of Regents in their Headquarters room in the Mansion. Mr. Riggs arranged it so that the guard ropes were taken down and our party allowed to wander into the various rooms at will. The day couldn't have been more beautiful with the warm October sunshine sparkling on the Potomac and the trees and shrubbery with all their gorgeous autumn coloring.

The events of the Gathering on October 17th and 18th you either saw for yourselves or have read about in the News Letter.

From Annapolis, it was Mrs. Magruder's and my privilege to take them on a short visit to the Naval Academy, and then as our guests to "Raven Rocks" here on the banks of the Shenandoah overlooking the Blue Ridge Mountains. They were delightful guests. We allowed them plenty of rest after the strenuous two days of the Gathering. We had some of our neighbors from the Valley in to meet them at dinner and tea. They enjoyed wonderfully sunny weather; their walks in the country, and they were very interested in our livestock and animals on the farm. On Tuesday, the 21st, we departed by car, again blessed by glorious weather, over the Skyline Drive in all its autumn glory for Colonial Williamsburg. We stopped en route in Richmond where our Treasurer and his wife, the Henry Magruder Taylors, entertained us with a delightful luncheon, real Southern cooking which our guests much enjoyed.

On arrival at the Williamsburg Inn, they were the Clan's guests for the night. We were warmly welcomed by the various officials of the Williamsburg Foundation and the following day, (again glorious weather) we were privately conducted through the quaint restored colonial town and its many buildings. We departed late in the afternoon and delivered our honored guests, in time for dinner, at "Gregor Hall" in Upper Marlboro, where they were welcomed by our clansmen, the Hampton Magruders, their hosts for the following week. Incidentally, Sir Malcolm's sister, who married Hampton Magruder's brother, Dr. Ernest P. Magruder, who gave his life so nobly in fighting typhus in Serbia, was also a guest of Hampton's. She honored us by coming to "Raven Rocks" with the MacGregors on their second visit. Those who met her at the supper in the Burgundy Room during the Gathering know how delightful and interesting she is.

After a flying trip to Niagara Falls, arranged by our Government, as Lady MacGregor is actively interested in water power development in Scotland and desired to inspect the various power plants at the Falls, they returned to Washington where Mrs. Magruder and I met them and brought them back to "Raven Rocks" for a second visit.

I have only space to hit the "high spots" of their visit—but I am sure you have been interested in hearing, even thus briefly—of their stay and join me in the feeling of having been enriched by their friendship. Let us wish them "God bless you till we meet again."

Sincerely in Clanship,

JOHN HOLMES MAGRUDER, JR.

ACCEPTANCE ADDRESS

By

MARSHALL MAGRUDER

OUR HEREDITARY CHIEF, SIR MALCOLM MACGREGOR, MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN CLAN GREGOR, AND DISTINGUISHED GUESTS:

Many honors are mine tonight. To be elected Chieftain of the American Clan Gregor Society is a very high one. But to be installed in the presence of our Hereditary Chief, one who has won distinction in war time service with His Majesty's armed forces, is an honor in which we all can share with great pride.

This occasion is a notable one, and I call on all of you members to stand and help make it so. Let us raise our right hands high and thus signify our allegiance and fealty to our Hereditary Chief, Sir Malcolm MacGregor.

The first duty of an elected officer is, usually, to extend his thanks to his efficient campaign machine. I must not fail to do this. It really was a superb machine. All my faults and weaknesses were nicely covered up. I did not have to disclose to the public the extent of any of my funds, inside or outside income or outgo, tax returns or tax frauds, nor tell how my wife owned or rented a MINK COAT.

Somehow I managed to escape being made a captive candidate. I yelled loud and strong that we did not want a change; I could not afford a whistle stop, much less a television show with a trained pet pup.

And still I won. It must have been a good machine!

The moral of this campaign is that we have no clan die hards or phoney liberals—we are a united clan.

Now, disregarding party politics, let us be serious for a moment. I want to talk about a subject that is close to the hearts of all who call themselves MacGregors—and a subject much in our minds today, our freedoms, individual and national.

The privileges and responsibilities of our citizens today are great indeed. But you know as well as I do, how difficult it is to arouse the people sufficiently in order that they will exercise their duty to vote, and thus protect those freedoms which we enjoy. As a great nation in the family of nations our responsibilities are likewise very great. And thus our national freedoms must be protected and defended.

How many of us are ready today to intelligently use the ballot in the protection of our freedoms, or go further—ready to die if necessary, in their defense?

The history of our Clan Gregor should be a never failing inspiration to us in our struggles to safeguard our freedoms. The Clan never failed. We should keep faith with them.

In 1215, the MAGNA CHARTA, first written code of man's freedoms or bill of rights, was wrested from King John. The ink had been barely dry 100 years before the Clan Gregor underwent its first period of persecution. This lasted from 1301 to 1663, about 360 years.

About 12 years before this period of persecution ended, Cromwell captured Alexander MacGregor at the battle of Worcester, 1651, and sent him to America. Then after a brief period of amnesty for 32 years, a second period of persecution began, in 1693, under William and Mary, and lasted 81 years, until George III repealed the hated laws in 1774. This, just before our Declaration of Independence in 1776.

You remember the nature of those persecutions!

Loss of name was just one.

Loss of right to sign legal contracts; loss of right to own property;
loss of right to be transported by boat; loss of right to be baptized;
loss of right to an assemblage—just to name a few.

Also the women were branded on the cheek while the men were hunted down like wild animals.

But, did they give up the fight for their rights? No! These ancestors of ours were stubborn men as well as courageous and brave. Not even after the first period of 360 years of persecution and a second of about 81 years—a total of around 441 years.

Their coat of arms showed a sword upholding with its point the crown of their kings to remind them of their allegiance thereto, and they were ever faithful.

Alexander MacGregor came to the Maryland colony founded by the Lords Baltimore as a place where every man could exercise his basic freedom of religion and right to hold office. Maryland was the first state to pass a toleration act. In this atmosphere of toleration, Alexander began a new and happy life. He raised a family, became a useful and respected citizen and left to his posterity the memories of his true character in his struggles for freedom—for our freedoms.

While we are proud to look back and read of our ancestor's struggles, that is not enough. If we are true sons and daughters of that great American and of the Clan to which he belonged and of which we are members—We should hold dear and defend for our posterity our heritage of freedoms, those priceless things which God intended us to use, nourish, preserve and defend.

PROCEEDING OF THE 1952 GATHERING OF THE
AMERICAN CLAN GREGOR SOCIETY

INCORPORATED

ANNA LOUISE REYNOLDS, Scribe

The Forty-Third Annual Gathering of the American Clan Gregor Society, Inc., was called to order October 17, at 2:30 P. M., by the Chieftain, Commodore John Holmes Magruder, Jr., U.S.N., Ret. This session followed a most delightful luncheon.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the Chaplain, Rev. Enoch Magruder Thompson followed by Salute to the Flag in recitation by the group and led by Miss June Lippincott Stockham.

The minutes for the Gathering in 1951 were read by Miss Reynolds and approved as read with one exception, which was in regard to the availability of funds for payment of fifty dollars per month for the rental of a room at the Highlands, Apartment 803, for the housing of the Clan's records. The phrase "if funds are available" should be added after the last word in that paragraph and should now read as follows: "that said room be taken over not prior to October 1, 1952, and beginning on that date fifty dollars per month be paid for this room if funds are available." This change was moved, seconded and carried.

The Chieftain spoke briefly referring to this being his last year in office; but he said there would be no "Swan Song" from him in this year so filled with political speeches. He commented on how happy he had been made that during his term in office he had succeeded in bringing our Hereditary Chief, Sir Malcolm and Lady MacGregor from Scotland, to be our guests at this our 43rd Gathering. He read a cablegram from the Clan Gregor Society of Scotland and also a few of the greetings from absent members of the Clan.

Brigadier General Marshall Magruder, our Ranking Deputy Chieftain, said he had no report, but told of an interesting trip he had made the day before to Mt. Vernon, accompanying our Chieftain along with Sir Malcolm and Lady MacGregor.

The Registrar, Mrs. O. O. van den Berg, reported thirty new members, an increase of eight over the previous year.

The Treasurer, Mr. Henry Magruder Taylor, read his report which is printed in full in the Year Book.

The Historian, Miss Regina Magruder Hill, reported eighteen births, eleven deaths and nine marriages.

The Chaplain, Rev. Enoch Magruder Thompson, stated that he offered prayers for the departed members of the Clan at his Sunday Church service.

The Chancellor, C. Virginia Diedel, was in New York on business. The Surgeon also was absent, but came to the evening session.

The first order of business was the recommendation of the Council to amend Rule V, Section 1, Annual Gatherings as follows: It was moved by Mr. Herbert T. Magruder, seconded by Mrs. Frederick H. Baugh, that the following amendment to Rule V, Section 1 be made:

"The Society shall hold an Annual Gathering on the third consecutive Friday and Saturday in October in the City of Washington, D. C., or in such other place as may be proposed by the Council to the Business Session of any Annual Gathering, and voted upon by those in attendance."

The amendment was carried.

It was recommended by the Council that an amendment to Rule VI, Section 2, and Rule VIII, Section 2, be made by adding the following:

"There shall be an Assistant to the Chieftain who shall reside in Washington, D. C., or vicinity, and need not bear the Surname of Magruder. The specific duties of this assistant shall be: to take over the Program Chairmanship, and perform executive duties of the Clan as directed by the Chieftain. He shall serve as a member of the Council."

Acceptance of this amendment was moved by Mr. Herbert T. Magruder, seconded by Miss Regina M. Hill, voted on and carried.

The Chieftain told of the two appointments he had made and which were approved by the Council. The first was the appointment of Miss Martha Sprigg Poole as Assistant to the Registrar; the second the appointment of Miss Martha Porter Miller, as Assistant to the Historian.

A proposal in the form of a tribute to Mr. John Edwin Muncaster, ex-treasurer, that he be made an Honorary Life Member of the Society was presented. It was seconded, voted on and carried.

The Chieftain spoke of the motion about "dues of new members joining the Society late in the fiscal year" which was presented by Miss Hill and approved by the Council. The motion reads as follows:

"Moved that anyone joining the Society six months, or later, after the beginning of the Fiscal Year, which is October 1st through September 30th of the next year; will at once be constituted a member of the Society and the dues of such members will be dated October 1st of the year in which he or she joins and will run for that Fiscal Year."

The report of the Nominating Committee was given by the chairman, Mr. Forrest S. Holmes as follows:

Chieftain.....	Brig. Gen. Marshall Magruder
Ranking Deputy Chieftain.....	Rev. Daniel Randall Magruder
Scribe.....	Miss Anna Louise Reynolds
Registrar.....	Mrs. Susie May Geddes van den Berg
Historian.....	Miss Regina Magruder Hill
Treasurer.....	Mr. Henry Magruder Taylor
Chaplain.....	Rev. Enoch Magruder Thompson
Surgeon.....	Dr. Roger Gregory Magruder
Editor.....	Mr. Thomas Garland Magruder, Jr.
Chancellor.....	C. Virginia Diedell (Mrs. Jacob Milwit)
Deputy Scribe.....	Miss Colma I. Myers

The report was accepted as slated and there was one nomination from the floor. Mr. Henry Magruder Taylor moved that Mr. Forrest S. Holmes be nominated Assistant to the Chieftain. This motion was seconded by Mr. J. Franklin Adams. The Slate was then voted upon and carried.

Congratulations were extended to our retiring Chieftain, Comdr. John Holmes Magruder, Jr., and he in turn congratulated the incoming Chieftain, Brig. Gen. Marshall Magruder.

Miss Louise Reynolds, retiring Chairman of the Committee for Future Planning, read her report, a full text of which will appear in the Year Book.

Miss Regina Hill, Treasurer of the Committee for Future Planning, was called on to read her report, a full text of which will appear in the Year Book.

It was moved by Mr. Douglas Neil Magruder, a former Chieftain, that appreciation be expressed to the Wardman Park Hotel for the many courtesies extended to us; and that the Gude's Flower Shop be thanked for the lovely flowers.

Mrs. Allen L. Hord, (Helen Ewell), presented the following invitation: "The four children of Dr. Jesse Ewell invite the Clan to Ruckersville, Virginia, to a luncheon on their Pilgrimage in 1953. This event to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of our Father." Dr. Jesse Ewell was one of the organizers and the first Scribe of the American Clan Gregor Society. The Chieftain thanked Mrs. Hord on behalf of the Clan and asked her to present this invitation in the form of a letter to the Scribe.

THE EVENING SESSION

October 17, 1952

Long before 7 o'clock that part of the lobby of the Wardman Park Hotel next to the Burgundy Room was full of Clansmen and their friends. What a lively crowd were they! Very colorful, too; for many were in evening dress, while others were decorated with their "Tartan Badges", as well as sprigs of pine and heather.

Soon they began to enter the Burgundy Room for the buffet supper. After the guests were seated, every one was waiting with great interest for the appearance of our Hereditary Chief and wife, Sir Malcolm MacGregor and Lady MacGregor. They had arrived from Scotland the day before to honor us with their presence at the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the coming of our paternal ancestor, Alexander Magruder, to Maryland in 1652. Our Chieftain, Commodore John Holmes Magruder, Jr., had driven to the Sulgrave Club, where they were guests, to bring them to the supper. After waiting at our tables for an hour, the Chieftain came into the dining room and passed the word from table to table that the delay had been caused by the illness of Lady MacGregor. For luncheon that day she had eaten a deviled crab, a-la-Maryland, which made her very ill. By this delay, those in her party had hoped that she would recover sufficiently to attend the buffet supper; but, alas, she was unable to greet us with her charming presence. This news, more or less, cast a spell of gloom over the Clansmen and their guests. However, with the appearance of Sir Malcolm along with pipers, William Lachlin Kennedy Galloway and Jimmie Garrioch, our spirits were revived and lifted. At the beginning of the meal there was the "Piping-in" of the traditional "Haggis", followed by waiters carrying the Scotch.

Following the supper members of the Clan and their guests passed down the "Receiving Line", which consisted of our Hereditary Chief, Sir Malcolm MacGregor, our own Chieftain, Distinguished Guests, Officers and Charter Members.

As soon as all guests and clansmen were seated, Sue and Sally Ramsburg, two small, lovely girls; dressed in Scottish attire, entertained us with various Scottish Dances, while Sir Malcolm, regal in Kilts, sat in the background.

The evening session was called to order by the Chieftain, Commodore John H. Magruder, Jr., at 10:30. Prayer followed, led by our Chaplain Rev. Enoch Magruder Thompson. Never before—or, at least, not within memory—has there been such an assemblage of honored guests on the platform. First of course, was our Hereditary Chief, Sir Malcolm MacGregor of MacGregor, Lochearnhead, Scotland. Then, there were three Ex-Chieftains as follows: Herbert Thomas Magruder of New York City, William Marion Magruder of Kentucky and Douglas Neil Magruder of Mississippi. Also, Mr. Hampton Magruder of Upper Marlboro, Md., Mr. Norman Kindness, President of St. Andrews Society; the Rev. George MacPherson Docherty, D.D., pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Wash., D. C.; our Chaplain and Gen. Marshall Magruder.

The Chieftain, going out of office this year, said there would be no "Swan Song" from him. He made a few brief remarks, and thanked all officers serving with him for their cooperation and help. "The hour is late" said he "and many more interesting speakers are to follow". Next the Chieftain introduced Sir Malcolm, presented him with a medal and gave him a pin for Lady MacGregor.

Sir Malcolm, a regal figure in his Scottish attire, told of how happy he was to be with us at the celebration of the 300th Anniversary of the coming of Alexander Magruder (MacGregor) to the Colony of Maryland in the year 1652. He thanked all clansmen for their generosity and kindness to him in inviting him and Lady MacGregor to be our guests. He presented our Chieftain John Holmes Magruder, Jr., with a very fine portrait of Sir Evan John Murray MacGregor of MacGregor, Bart, Scotland. This gentleman, was the great, great grandfather of Sir Malcolm and the founder of the Clan Gregor Society in Scotland.

The Chieftain saluted our "Absentee Guests", giving the number and saying that the names of these will appear in the year book. He also read a cablegram from "Clan Gregor Society of Scotland".

Ex-Chieftain, Douglas Neil Magruder, read a portion of a paper written by another Ex-Chieftain, Herbert Thomas Magruder, and entitled, "Some Notes on Circumstances Surrounding the Transporting of Alexander MacGruder, as a Prisoner-of-war: His landing in Maryland in 1652". This paper appears in full in the year book.

Mrs. Frances Griffin Villaret, an accomplished concert pianist, rendered several piano selections.

Mr. M. Hampton Magruder of Upper Marlboro, Maryland, delivered a short, humorous speech entitled, "Greetings from Maryland".

Mr. Norman Kindness, President of the Saint Andrews Society, brought us greetings and invited us to attend the meetings of this society.

Our guest speaker for the evening was the Rev. George MacPherson Docherty, D.D., pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Wash., D. C. Dr. Docherty spoke briefly of the "Rob Roy Country" in Scotland where he visited this past summer.

The incoming Chieftain, General Marshall Magruder, was presented with the Clan Medal given by the Society to each Chieftain. His full speech of acceptance appears elsewhere in the Year Book.

There was confirmation of the newly elected officers for the ensuing year. The Rev. Daniel Randall Magruder, the new Ranking Deputy Chieftain, was called to the platform and asked to greet us.

The meeting was dismissed by prayer led by the Chaplain. It was now 12 o'clock midnight and in the background one could hear the strains of the orchestra, for dancing was to begin soon and last into the small hours of the morning.

THE PILGRIMAGE

Saturday, Oct. 18, 1952

Again the weather smiled on us. It was such a perfect fall day; as we drove to the interesting old City of Annapolis, Maryland, the scenery was superb. The trees dressed in their varied, brilliant hues presented such a riot of color that it was difficult for an autoist to keep his eye on the road.

At 10:30 A. M. there was a short service at St. Anne's Church on the Circle.

From there Clansmen and friends assembled on the campus of St. John's College. Historically, the college is rich in the tradition of Colonial Maryland. Begun as King William's School in 1696, it received its charter as St. John's College in 1785. There was only one building, McDowell Hall, designed in 1744 as the residence of the Royal Governor; but not completed until after the Revolution. McDowell still houses administrative offices, classrooms, the coffee shop, and the book store. The Great Hall in McDowell has changed but little from colonial days when it was the scene of festivities in honor of Washington and LaFayette. In one corner stands a tall mahogany secretary, which belonged to Francis Scott Key, a graduate of the college in the class of 1796, and later founder of its Alumni Association. The Library is also of historical interest, for it houses the "Thomas Bray Collection," brought from England to Annapolis in 1697 to be the first public library in the Colonies. Another landmark on the Campus is the "Liberty Tree", an ancient tulip, under which the Susquehannock Indians are supposed to have signed over the territory upon which Annapolis now stands.

Clansman and guests gathered at McDowell Hall, where was unveiled a tablet commemorating the coming to Maryland of Alexander Magruder Circa 1652; and to the men of his blood who have been students there. A most interesting address was given by Dr. Richard D. Weigle, President of the College; after which our new Ranking Deputy Chieftain, the Reverend Daniel Randall Magruder, unveiled the tablet.

After the unveiling most of those with cameras were very busy making snapshots of Sir Malcolm and Lady MacGregor. She had recovered from the illness. This was the first time that most of the clansmen had an opportunity to see and speak to her. We found her, as well as Sir Malcolm, to be a person of great charm. All of us were made very happy that these two, our honored and distinguished guests, were able to make the Pilgrimage with us.

From Annapolis we drove south and west to old historic Saint Barnabus Church where the "Ladies of the Guild" with Mrs. William Hill Brooke, Chairman; served a most delicious and appetizing luncheon to around 75 persons. Ladies, those hot rolls and creamed chicken have never been excelled! After luncheon the guests visited the church and browsed through the lovely grounds and old grave yard.

We left here about 2:45 P. M. and proceeded to "Dunblane", near Forestville, Maryland. This, the oldest Magruder house now standing, was built by John Magruder of Dunblane in the year 1715. The clan had replaced the lost numerals "1715" on the chimney of the house. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carrick, the present owners, were most cordial in escorting us through the building, pointing out the old, as well as the new features of it. Most of us went some distance to the rear of the building, across a stream, and up a hill to the old cemetery where "John of Dunblane" and members of his family are buried. By this time "Old Sol" was beginning to sink low in the western sky, so most of us hurried to our cars for the return trip to Washington with a feeling that again we had experienced a full and perfect day.

The Clansmen owe a note of thanks to Mrs. O. O. van den Berg, Chairman of the Program Committee, and to her corps of helpers, for arranging this outstanding and memorable program.

MINUTES OF THE COUNCIL MEETING

October 17, 1952

ANNA LOUISE REYNOLDS, Scribe

A meeting of the Council of the American Clan Gregor Society was held at Wardman Park Hotel, in Washington, D. C., on October 17, 1952. The meeting was called to order by the Chieftain, Commodore John Holmes Magruder, Jr., U.S.N. Retired, at 11:15 A. M.

The reading of the minutes of the last meeting was omitted as a full report appeared in the Year Book.

The first item on the agenda was one of "Old Business" the amendment of Rule I, Members; Section 2, Lineal Members: The first presentation of this change was at the Gathering in October 1950 and was: to add after the word "Gregorson" the following: "and those who can prove their descent from any one of the Clan Septs and Dependents of Clan MacGregor and are entitled to wear the MacGregor Tartans, as provided in the book 'The Scottish Clans and Their Tartans', published by W. & A. K. Johnson, Ltd., Edinburgh and London, 1945." Final adoption of the change had been held open until the Chieftain had a reply from our Hereditary Chief, Sir Malcolm MacGregor. In view of the fact that our Hereditary Chief deems it unwise to make any changes in this Rule, it was moved, seconded and approved by the Council that this proposed amendment be withdrawn.

The second item was a proposed amendment to Rule V, Section 1 "Annual Gatherings", which was sent by the Chancellor, C. Virginia Diedel, to members of the Council, and reads as follows:

"The Society shall hold an Annual Gathering on the third consecutive Friday and Saturday in October in the City of Washington, D. C., or in such other place as may be proposed by the Council to the business session of any Annual Gathering and voted upon by those in attendance."

There were twelve signatures received, eleven in favor and one against the proposed amendment. This proposed amendment was presented to the Council as a motion to be recommended to the General Business Session, and was seconded and carried.

In view of the fact that both the Chieftain and Ranking Deputy Chieftain may live miles removed from the Washington area, and sensing the need of some one to take over the emergency duties of the Clan in the absence of the above officers; the Chieftain presented a proposal to create a new office in the American Clan Gregor Society to be known as "Assistant to the Chieftain". The person to fill this office must reside in Washington, D. C., or vicinity, and need not bear the surname of Magruder. This proposal was put in the form of an Amendment to the Rules; to amend Rule VI, Section 2, and Rule VIII by adding a section to be known as Section 2, as follows:

"There shall be an Assistant to the Chieftain who shall reside in Washington, D. C., or vicinity, and need not bear the Surname of Magruder. The specific duties of this assistant shall be: to take over the Program Chairmanship, and perform executive duties of the Clan as directed by the Chieftain. He shall serve as a member of the Council."

These proposed amendments were presented to the Council and upon motion, duly seconded, they were voted upon and a recommendation was made to present them to the General Business Session of the Clan.

The definite need of an assistant to the Registrar and to the Historian was discussed. It was agreed that both of these officers carried heavy duties. The Chieftain therefore appointed Miss Martha Poole, as an Assistant to the Registrar, and Miss Martha Porter Miller, as an Assistant to the Historian. These officers are not to be members of the Council. These appointments were moved, seconded and approved by the Council.

The Chieftain read the resignation of Miss Louise Reynolds as Chairman of the Committee for Future Planning. The Council accepted the resignation with regrets and gave a vote of appreciation for services rendered by Miss Reynolds.

Miss Regina Magruder Hill presented the following motion and moved its adoption: Moved that anyone joining the Society six months, or later, after the beginning of the Fiscal Year, which is October 1st through September 30th, of the next year; will at once be constituted a member of the Society and the dues of such members will be dated October 1st of the year in which he or she joins and will run for that Fiscal Year." Thus, those joining on April 1 or later, of 1953, their dues will begin October 1, 1953 and will run through September 30th, 1954. This motion was voted on by the Council and approved.

It was proposed that contributions from Absentee Guests be used to help finance the entertainment of Sir Malcolm and Lady MacGregor. This was moved, seconded and approved by the Council.

The Recommendations of the Nominating Committee were approved by the Council and it was voted to present the report to the Business Session.

The meeting adjourned at one o'clock P. M., in time for luncheon in the Burgundy Room of the Hotel.

Members of the Council present were: Commodore John Holmes Magruder, Jr., Chieftain; General Marshall Magruder, Regina Magruder Hill, John E. Muncaster, Sr., Herbert Thomas Magruder, Douglas Neil Magruder, Emma Waters Muncaster, J. Franklin Adams, Thomas Garland Magruder, Jr., Henry Magruder Taylor, Forrest S. Holmes, William Marion Magruder, Mrs. Rex Hays Rhoades, Anna Louise Reynolds and Mrs. O. O. van den Berg.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE FOR FUTURE PLANNING

*By*ANNA LOUISE REYNOLDS, Chairman

A meeting of the Committee for Future Planning was called for April 24, 1952, at the apartment of Mrs. van den Berg and Miss Hill. Notices were sent out to all members about two weeks previous to this meeting, asking them to come if possible and to bring, or send suggestions for the improvement of the Society. As a majority of the members reside far removed from the Washington Area, only six were able to come. Those present were: Messrs. Forrest S. Holmes and J. Franklin Adams; and Mmes. O. O. van den Berg, and Rudolph J. Bopp; and the Misses Anna Louise Reynolds and Regina M. Hill. Although we were small in numbers, I feel that our accomplishments were well worth while. After discussion and approval by all present, I authorized the underwriting of funds for the membership drive up to $200.; one half the price, $75.14, for the purchase of a new typewriter and up to $100 for the indexing of the Archives of the American Clan Gregor Society.

In the absence of the secretary, Miss Regina M. Hill was asked to act as secretary protem. A few days following the meeting, Miss Hill sent a letter to each member of this Committee, stating in detail all that was accomplished.

On June 14, 1952 a "Green Tea" for the purpose of raising funds for research was given at Woodward and Lothrop's Store Auditorium in Chevy Chase, D. C. There was a display for sale of general material relative to the Clan, a White Elephant Sale, Scottish Dancing and an exhibition of Indian Dolls by Miss Irene Pistorio, a member of the Magruder Chapter, D. C. D. A. R. The remunerative results of this tea will be given by the treasurer.

In addition to the above, we have purchased and had installed on the chimney at "Dunblane", the ancestral home of John Magruder, four brass numerals, "1715".

Miss Hill and I sent a letter to the Deputy Chieftains of each state, where such an officer has been appointed; asking his assistance in securing data on the descendants of Alexander Magruder who settled in his area. This genealogical data is needed in completing the charts that Miss Hill and others have been working on so diligently.

REPORT OF THE MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE

REGINA MAGRUDER HILL, Chairman

Commodore John H. Magruder, Jr., Chieftain, appointed Mrs. O. O. van den Berg as Temporary Chairman of the Membership Drive in February of 1952. On February 10, 1952, Mrs. van den Berg called a meeting of some of the Clan members and the following became members of a Permanent Membership Committee: Mrs. Rex Hays Rhoades, Mrs. W. Randolph Talbott, Mrs. John McDonald, Miss Martha Sprigg Poole, Mrs. James Murdock, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest S. Holmes, Mrs. Jessie Myers, Miss Colma Myers, Miss Frances Lummis, Mrs. John R. Dwyer, Miss Regina M. Hill, and Mrs. O. O. van den Berg. Miss Hill was made chairman of the committee.

The Committee asked Mr. and Mrs. Forrest S. Holmes to prepare a membership letter and Miss Martha Poole to prepare a new Information Leaflet. These were prepared, printed and posted by the members of the committee to about 900 persons who are eligible to membership. This work got started on May 1st.

The response has been slow but the ground work has been laid and with good follow-up work during the next year or two, the results should bring our membership up greatly. The list of those eligible is constantly being added to, as more and more people answer the questionnaires which have been, and are being sent out in connection with the Generation Charts being compiled.

The Committee will start planning the followup work directly after this Gathering. This membership work is the most important single piece of work we have as without members the Clan will decline. We just must get in new members each year. We ask every member present at this Gathering to help in this work by getting members of their families and their relatives to join this, their Family Clan.

OUR VISIT TO AMERICA

AS

GUESTS OF THE AMERICAN CLAN GREGOR SOCIETY

By

GYLLA MACGREGOR OF MACGREGOR

It was with joy and excitement that Sir Malcolm and I left our home in Balquhider on Tuesday, 14th October, to accept the generous invitation of the Clan Gregor Society of America to be their guests at their Annual Gathering in Washington at which they were celebrating the tercentenary of the settling of their Forefather, Alexander, in Maryland.

It was a lovely calm night and we motored to Prestwick where we were to embark on the B. O. A. C. stratocruiser which was to take us to New York.

We were rather dashed to find when we arrived at Prestwick that the plane had not even left London owing to engine trouble. We had some dinner and sat in the waiting room in a state of frustrated impatience. Just after 2 A. M. the welcome announcement came over the loud speaker that passengers for our flight were to go to the Customs Hall and a few minutes afterwards we had boarded the aircraft and taken off.

The night was very dark but the stars were brilliant and looked very large. The dawn was glorious. We were flying high above the clouds which were "love-in-the-mist" colour, the great wing of the aircraft jutting out and shining silver in the gathering light. A streak of crimson along the horizon merged into yellow and then into pale lavender. Rapidly the colours faded before the rising sun and we were soon flying low over Newfoundland. We landed at Gander Airport and the wind was so cold it cut like a knife. While we were having breakfast it was announced that owing to engine trouble there would be a delay of several hours. We went out for a stroll and on our return were informed that a bus ride had been arranged for the B. O. A. C. passengers as there was still further delay. An antiquated bus took us to the shore of Lake Gander. The lake, which is thirty-five miles long, is said to be full of rainbow salmon, and brown trout, and the woods of caribou and moose. When we got back to the Airport we were given luncheon. It was 12, noon, Canadian time, and 4 P. M. by our time. We finally left Gander just before 4 o'clock Canadian time, and flew low over Nova Scotia which enabled us to see the country very well. There were numberless lakes and rivers and the yellow and red Fall colouring was brilliant in contrast to the dark fir trees. The weather got very stormy and there were frequent injunctions to fasten our belts. We were very glad when we were told that we should be arriving in New York in half an hour's time. What had worried us all through the day was the thought of our kind friends waiting to meet us, and not being able to tell them of our whereabouts.

On landing at Idlewild we were immediately handed a letter from Commodore John Holmes Magruder, Jr., containing a welcome that warmed our hearts. Our names were the first to be called and we were taken into the Customs Hall, where Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Magruder were waiting to greet us. They had been at the Airport for over eleven hours and had not dared to leave as they could get no accurate forecast of the time of our arrival. Commodore Magruder had worked a miracle with the Customs and nothing was opened. The officials just stamped our bags and let us go away. The Herbert Magruders hurried us into their car and we drove as fast as we could from Idlewild to La Guardia. We had already been booked on five different planes to Washington and they hoped to catch the one which left at five minutes to six, but on arrival at the Airport we found it had just gone. We were told we could only be "stand ins" for the plane which left at 7:30 as all the seats had been taken. Mercifully two passengers failed to turn up, and very glad we were when the plane took off with us in it. The flight to Washington took just over an hour and a half. As we stepped off the aircraft we were met by Commodore and Mrs. John Holmes Magruder, Jr., and Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Marshall Magruder. They gave us a lovely welcome and took us to their cars where Gen. and Mrs. Marshall Magruder left us. Commodore and Mrs. Magruder gave us a delicious dinner at Harvey's Oyster Bar and then took us to the Sulgrave Club where we were to stay while we were in Washington. We were given a beautiful room with windows looking over Dupont Circle. Every detail had been thought of for our happiness and comfort and it was wonderful to feel that we had really arrived in Washington. We climbed into blissfully comfortable beds at 12:30 A. M., American time, and 5:30 A. M., by our time. It was thirty-six hours since we had left home.

We woke to a glorious day and spent a quiet morning with Commodore Magruder. After luncheon we called for Mrs. Guy Campbell, who lives in a charming house in Thirty-First Street, and drove through Georgetown, along the Potomac River passing through Alexandria to Mount Vernon. The vivid Autumn colouring was at its very best and the wooded slopes that fall gently to the river from the lovely old house were in their glory. Again the most wonderful arrangements had been made and we were greeted by the Superintendent, Mr. Riggs, who showed us around privately. This added greatly to our pleasure as we were told and shown many things which we would otherwise have missed. The Regent, Miss Powell, gave us all tea and we had a lovely drive into the sunset back to Washington. After dinner we were taken to a French film.

The next morning my husband, who had only just recovered from a bad attack of bronchitis, rested and I went for a walk. After luncheon Mrs. Marshall Magruder, called for us in her car and took us for a drive round Washington. We saw the Capitol, the Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Monument, the Pentagon and other Government buildings, the White House, the Cathedral, and we had a walk round the Bishop's Garden. The Gathering was that night and when we had dressed some MacGregors who were unable to attend the Gathering called to see us. Commodore Magruder took us in his car to the Hotel where the Gathering was to take place and here occurred the only bad incident of our entire visit. I began to feel most dreadfully ill and finally had to go and lie down and have the doctor, who diagnosed food poisoning. I therefore missed the Dinner, and the pleasure of meeting all the clansfolk. The only thing to be thankful for is that it was I who was stricken and not my husband. I shall never forget the kindness of Mrs. John Holmes Magruder, III and Mrs. Evely Maclean King who refused to leave me to my misery and spoilt their own evening by staying with me. The Dinner from all accounts was an outstanding success.

The next morning I had recovered sufficiently to join the others in the Pilgrimage to St. John's College, Annapolis. There the Tablet commemorating the coming to Maryland of Alexander Magruder, circa 1652, and to the men of his blood who have been students at the College, was unveiled. After the ceremony we met many Clansfolk and received a wonderful welcome from them all. We visited the beautiful Old State House and then Commodore Magruder took us to see the U. S. Naval Academy where he had been as a midshipman. We drove from there to the Church of St. Barnabas, Leeland, where a splendid luncheon was served by the Ladies of the Guild. We returned to Washington by another route, collected our luggage from the Sulgrave Club, and Commodore Magruder drove us down to his home, the "Raven Rocks", Charlestown, West Virginia. Here we had a very warm welcome from Mrs. Magruder, who had been prevented by illness from attending the Clan Gathering, and their Boxer dog, Danda. The "Raven Rocks" is a charming old stone house, standing among trees, with fields in front gently sloping to the Shenandoah River. This name I love. It is the Indian for Daughter of the Stars. Along the river bank are noble trees and to the north east rise the swelling heights of the Blueridge Mountains. A brook circles the back of the house and in every room you can hear the sound of running water. It was lovely to be in this American home, full of graciousness and peace. Commodore and Mrs. Magruder's son and daughter-in-law live in the little old slave house charmingly "done over" for them a stone's throw away.

We had a very peaceful Sunday, bathed in sunshine. In the morning we walked round the farm and looked at the stock and in the afternoon a number of friends were invited to meet us. The next morning our hosts took up in their car along the Potomac River to where it joins the Shenandoah at Harpers Ferry. On our way back we visited one of their friends who had "made over" a little Mill House. It was done with great taste and the kitchen was a model of "Time and Motion Study" and full of all the latest gadgets. I thought of our huge kitchen at home, with its uneven stone floor and non-labour saving devices! On Tuesday we were taken for another lovely drive by Snickers Gap through Lincoln. The views of the Shenandoah, the Blueridge Mountains and the Allegheny Mountains were most beautiful. We had luncheon with Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Duer, and in the evening some Bulgarian friends of ours, who now live with their family near Buckiestown, came over and we all went to a party at Mr. and Mrs. Watkin's beautiful home, "Annfield". The woodwork which is particularly lovely was carved by Hessian soldiers. This countryside is famed for its peaches and apples and must be a dreamland in the spring when all the blossom is out.

On Wednesday, October 22nd, we left early by car for Williamsburg. We went over the Skyline Drive. This road runs along the top of the Blueridge Mountains through the Shenandoah National Park with superb views on either side. We turned east at Sperryville and came by a lovely winding road to Richmond where Mr. and Mrs. Henry Magruder Taylor had invited us to their home for luncheon. The twisting road made slow going and we arrived nearly an hour late but no course in the luncheon of wonderful Southern dishes had been spoiled, but I am afraid they, and the guests they had so kindly invited to meet us, must have had a weary wait. We had the pleasure of having Mr. and Mrs. Taylor's daughter, Elizabeth, and her friends call in at Edinchip during their recent visit to Scotland. We did not finish luncheon until half past four and soon the blue dusk fell and we drove the remainder of our way to Williamsburg in darkness. We entered the little town by way of Duke of Gloucester Street. The windows of the houses and shops were brightly lit and we caught glimpses of fascinating interiors. We drove up to the famous Williamsburg Inn where we were to stay the night. We had a large and beautifully furnished room overlooking the garden. After dinner we strolled along the almost deserted streets with their avenues of lovely trees. The next morning a Mr. Mays and a Miss Engel called for us at the Hotel and took us to George Wythe House where our photographs were taken, my husband holding an old Scottish toddy ladle. We decided it would be fun to drive round the town in one of the fascinating coaches provided for the purpose. Our coloured coachman, dressed in 18th century costume, was most knowledgeable about the history of the different buildings, the names of the trees, etc. We returned to the Court House where we met Mrs. David Holmes of Colonial Williamsburg. We explained what a short time we had at our disposal and she proved herself a Queen among guides, taking us to see the things in which we were most interested and telling us nothing but essentials. We had to tear ourselves away from this enchanting town at four o'clock to drive to Upper Marlboro, where we were to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Magruder. We were sad indeed to part with our kind hosts, Commodore and Mrs. Magruder, whom we felt we had known all our lives instead of a short nine days. Also staying with the Hampton Magruders was my husband's sister, Mrs. E. P. Magruder, and it was a great pleasure to have this opportunity to meet her "in-laws".

We woke to brilliant sunshine on Friday and set out in the car about 11:30 for the Laurel Race Course. We were given a delicious luncheon at the Club and then sat in the sun in Mr. Hampton Magruder's box. My selection of the winner for the First Race was so disastrous that I did not actively participate in the racing again but enjoyed watching the horses and the crowd in the charming setting of grass and trees. On Saturday morning we went into Marlboro to hear a case tried in Court in which Mr. Hampton Magruder was taking part. In the evening we went to an enormous party at a very beautiful house called "Tulip Hill", which belongs to a Mr. and Mrs. Andrews. They have an outstanding collection of Chinese embroideries and porcelain. We finished the day with a dinner party with friends of our hosts, at a house called "Bleak Hill". On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Magruder gave a delightful party in our honour for over sixty people. The following day we went for a drive to Annapolis and crossed the new bridge over Chesapeake Bay. It is the longest bridge in the world. In the evening we dined with the Chewnings at "Tacora". The house has the most beautiful views across the Bay.

I may say that early in our visit to the U. S. A. we got caught up in the maelstrom of the Presidential Election. We saw and heard the candidates on TV, and sometimes the families with whom we were staying were divided into opposite camps. As far as we were concerned, we "Like Ike" too, and were very pleased with the result.

On Tuesday we drove to Baltimore and had luncheon with Mrs. T. Vickery and afterwards visited the Hampton Magruder's married daughter in her new home. The first rain we had had since we set foot in the U. S. A. fell during the morning but it faired up for our drive home in the evening.

On Wednesday, the 29th, we left Upper Marlboro with many regrets after our happy week there and took the plane at Washington for Buffalo. We came down at Pittsburgh and Erie. The skies were gray and overcast and the ground was covered with snow. We motored from Buffalo to Niagara. Our reason for going to Niagara was that for many years I had been a member of the North of Scotland Hydro Electric Board's Amenity Committee and they were anxious that I should see at least one scheme during my visit to America. How glad I am I decided on Niagara! It is the birthplace of American water power and has a thrilling history of vision, endeavour and success. We stayed at the Red Coach Inn and our room looked over the Rapids which foamed and swirled on their mad rush to the Falls. That evening after dark we took a taxi and crossed into Canada. We had a most intelligent driver who took us to all the best view points and told us a great deal of local history. We had a magnificent view of the American Falls and the Horseshoe Falls in the light of a full moon. On Thursday morning at 9:30 Mr. Rob Roy (sic) Macleod, the Western Division Commercial Manager, called for us at our Hotel and took us first of all to see the Adams Station which was the first major hydro-electric development in U. S. A. He then showed us all over the Schoelkopf Plant. Afterwards he took us to see the Whirlpool and drove us down to the Country Club where we met Mr. Robida, the Plant Superintendent, and Mr. Wray, the Manager, and they gave us a delightful luncheon there.

We left Niagara early on Friday morning and caught the plane for Washington at Buffalo. Mrs. Maclean King met us at the Airport at Washington and gave us luncheon, and Commodore and Mrs. Magruder picked us up at the Sulgrave Club and took us to the "Raven Rocks" for the weekend. It was joyful to be back again where we had been so happy. Friends brought Mrs. E. P. Magruder down by car for luncheon and she also stayed for the weekend. On Sunday General and Mrs. John Magruder came to luncheon. We went over for cocktails and dinner with the Stancioffs near Buckiestown. Our friend, Flora, Mrs. Macleod of Macleod, who was also visiting the States, was there. After luncheon on Monday we drove over to see a lovely old house called "Carters Hall" near Berryville.

On Tuesday, 4th November, we were taken to Harpers Ferry to catch the train for New York. We said a sad farewell to our kindest of hosts as the train steamed in, and it steamed out in such a hurry that we almost got left behind. We had a very comfortable journey, lunching on the train, and we arrived at Elizabeth Station where we were met by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Magruder and they drove us in their car to their home in Staten Island. It was a day of great rejoicing for them as their son, Bill, had arrived unexpectedly from Korea the night before. They gave a large cocktail party that evening which enabled us to meet many of their friends. The next morning they took us to New York in their car. The view of the skyline of Manhattan from the Staten Island Ferry is an unforgettable experience. We went straight to the Empire State Building and went up to the top. The view was unsurpassed as it was one of those clear, still, golden Autumn days, and we could see for miles in every direction. After lunch we went to see Radio City, its skating rink and gardens. We were taken to an excellent show at the Radio City Music Hall. After dinner we drove round New York. The journey across to Staten Island by the Ferry in the dark was even more lovely than in the day time. The next day we went into New York after luncheon. We met some friends in the evening at the University Club where they gave us a very good dinner and then took us to see "The King and I" which we thoroughly enjoyed. The acting of Yul Brynner was especially good. On our way back to the Ferry the taxi flew down the Riverside Drive and we could see the great trans-Atlantic liners lying in their berths. On Friday Mrs. Magruder took me to see the Staten Island Hospital. Miss Hunt, the Matron, showed us all over it. An excellent feature is the Coffee Shop, which was started and organized by Mrs. Herbert Magruder, her sister, and a group of friends. It is the greatest boon to the patients as well as to the Hospital staff, and it makes a handsome profit which is spent on extra comforts for the patients. On our return we all went to have drinks with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Downing and then to dinner with the Hollaways. On Saturday we went over to see our hosts' married daughter, Mrs. Kammer, who has a charming little daughter of almost two. After an early luncheon we drove to New York in the car and visited the Metropolitan Museum. Then we went to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and visited the Hayden Planetarium. We had dinner at the Down Town Athletic Club.

On Sunday we went to Church and visited various friends in the afternoon and dined with Mrs. Pitou. On Monday Mrs. Magruder and I went into New York on our own. We visited many of the best shops and spent a very happy hour in Macy's basement inspecting all kinds of gadgets. On Tuesday my husband and I went into New York by ourselves. We went to 575 Madison Avenue where we called on Mr. and Mrs. Hans Knoll of Knoll Associates, Inc. We were shown the showrooms and offices which have been designed by Mrs. Knoll, who got her A.R.I.B.A. at the Architectural Association in London before taking an American Degree. The new furniture on show was very interesting and it was beautifully arranged with lovely colour schemes and beautiful textiles, a number of which had been designed by our Swedish friend, Astrid Sampe, R.D.I. The Knolls took us to lunch at L'Aiglon and afterwards we visited Tiffany and Bonwit Teller. The New York shops are enchanting. When we got back to Staten Island we went to dinner with Mrs. Magruder's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Pouch. On Wednesday we went early to New York and had luncheon with Mr. Leslie G. Matthews at the Bankers' Club at 120 Broadway. We went up to the roof afterwards from which there is a wonderful view. Later in the afternoon we met an old friend who took us to the top of the Empire State Building. It was the perfect hour. All the office buildings were in the hands of the cleaners so every window was lit and the stars were fighting a losing battle with the riotous lights of the city. New York is bewitched at that moment. The great buildings lose their contours and the million lighted voids pierce the darkness like a great stained glass window. The floodlit Statue of Liberty stands out boldly in the Narrows. We could hardly bring ourselves to come down to earth. We were taken to dinner at the Brussels Restaurant, famed for its souffles.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Magruder took us to the Hanover Bank where we were met by one of the Vice-Presidents who took us over to Wall Street and we were able to see the Stock Exchange in action. My husband had luncheon at the Bank with Mr. Magruder and some of his friends and Mrs. Magruder and I joined her sister, Mrs. Lorentzen, at the Waldorf Astoria. After lunch we went to the United Nations Building and attended a Session. On our return to Staten Island we dined with Bishop and Mrs. J. Larned.

On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Magruder took us into New York and we visited Sloanes'. We lunched with Mrs. Jerome Franks at the Colony Club and went on to the Museum of Modern Art. We dined at the Country Club on Staten Island with the Hon. and Mrs. Ellsworth B. Buck.

Saturday, the 15th November, and our last day in the U. S. A. The Magraders took us in their car to Idlewild where we had luncheon together and then bade a sad farewell to our kindest of friends. Just as we were boarding the plane the weather broke and the rain came down in torrents. It was in keeping with our feelings. We landed at Boston and stayed there about three quarters of an hour. After that it was non-stop to Prestwick. The Captain invited us into the Control Room. We were flying over 22,000 feet and we looked down on the stars. A curious sensation. We were due at Prestwick at 9.5 and at 9.7 we touched down and taxied gently to the Airport Building. We were met by the Captain of the Airport who had had our car warmed up and waiting for us, and we were back in our home in the Highlands by 11. o'clock.

Since our return I have often tried to analyse what it was that made our visit such a happy one. Various factors certainly contributed. The weather was perfect; we met many delightful people; we saw a great deal of new country and did a number of most interesting things. Our visit was marvellously organized from start to finish and the hospitality we received could not have been more generous. But I think the outstanding feature was that we were made to feel "one of the family". And what a nice family it was.

MT. ARARAT FAMILY GRAVEYARD

JAMES TRUMAN MAGRUDER
From a miniature made in London.

"MOUNT ARARAT"

CAPTAIN JAMES TRUMAN MAGRUDER'S MISSISSIPPI HOME

By His Great Granddaughter

JANIE DRAKE COOPER

"What's in a name?" Something of Captain Magruder's life history is found in the name Mt. Ararat. After many successful voyages as a captain of clipper ships, James Truman Magruder wearied of the sea and longed for a permanent home. He married in 1803 and settled on the family homestead on the Patuxent River in his native Maryland. At this time the market for his chief crop, tobacco, was poor and other farming conditions discouraging; so he thought best to seek new land.

A number of friends and relatives of the Magruders had moved down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and found new homes in the Natchez country. As the spirit of adventure was by no means dead in Captain Magruder, he, with wife, sister, Covington relatives, slaves, and household goods joined kinsmen in this distant territory.

After some months of looking for a suitable location, he bought a plantation near what is now Church Hill, Mississippi. So many other natives of Maryland were located nearby that the neighborhood came to be known as the "Maryland Settlement". Here in 1810 Captain Magruder built a typical, two story, pioneer house and named the plantation Mt. Ararat; for, he said, "I will cease my voyaging and, like Noah of old, my ark shall come to rest." His only daughter wrote of this home, "The Mt. Ararat residence was a very attractive spot to visitors as well as to the family. Beautiful arbors of holly ornamented the yard, while the air was fragrant with the odor of wild plum, crab apple, and many other fruits, and joyous with songs of a multitude of birds".

Because of his many sea voyages Captain Magruder had acquired considerable knowledge of the world. For this reason and because he was a friendly and helpful man, he was held in great esteem by neighbors of the "Magruder Settlement". An instance of their confidence is related in Shields' Life and Times of Seargent Smith Prentiss. Wishing to supplement his funds while studying law, Prentiss decided to tutor some young men of the Natchez district. His would-be employers sent him to Captain Magruder to be examined in Latin and mathematics. Captain Magruder immediately recognized that young Prentiss was very brilliant. He called his son Nat and said, "I've just engaged Prentiss as your teacher and he's the smartest man that ever entered this house."

Further evidence of the Captain's interest in education is to be seen in the way he educated his children and in the fact that he became a member of the Board of Trustees of Jefferson Military College at Washington, Mississippi. Doubtless he "is glad" that his great-grandson, Winbourne Magruder Drake, is now president of this Board and interested in the welfare of this historic institution.

In this happy haven at Mt. Ararat Captain Magruder lived and worked for twenty years; and here he and his wife, Elizabeth Ann, reared three children. The eldest, Susannah Priscilla Hawkins Magruder, was graduated from Elizabeth Female Academy at Washington, Mississippi—the first institution in the state, and some claim the first in the world, chartered to give diplomas to women. She married Rev. Benjamin Michael Drake of the Mississippi Methodist Conference. They had seven children who lived to maturity, and their numerous descendants are widely scattered in several Southern states. Some members of this line who live not many miles apart assembled on December 26, 1952, at the home of Mrs. J. T. Drake, Sr., of Port Gibson, Mississippi, to attend her annual family dinner. Of the thirty-three persons present twenty-five were direct descendants of James Truman Magruder, including one of the seventh generation.

Alexander Leonard Covington Magruder, second child of Captain Magruder and his wife, practiced medicine in Vicksburg, Mississippi, and Macon, Georgia. He was twice married but left no heirs.

William Hezekiah Nathaniel Magruder, youngest child of Captain and Mrs. Magruder, was educated at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut. On his return to the South he became known as one of the most prominent educators in Louisiana. Six of his children lived to maturity, and their descendants are at home in Louisiana, Texas, Florida, and other Southern states.

When Captain Magruder's busy life ended, he was buried at Mt. Ararat very near the home he had built and loved. Since his passing other members of his family—wife, two sisters, his daughter and his son-in-law, eight grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren—have come to rest near him. In addition to the stones that mark each grave there are C. S. A. iron crosses marking the graves of three of the grandsons who served in the Confederate Army; Augustus Freeland Drake, William Winans Drake, and James Perry Drake. Some thirty years ago, Winbourne Magruder Drake had this family burying ground enclosed by a brick retaining wall and iron fence. On the gate posts are bronze tablets. One bears the inscription:

Magruder	1830-1860
Drake	1832-

The other tablet is inscribed with St. Paul's memorable, trenchant question:

"If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me if the dead rise not?"

1 Corinthians XV-32.

Today Mt. Ararat is owned and operated as a cattle and tree farm by Winbourne Magruder Drake, great-grandson of James Truman Magruder. He has never married. His home is shared by his two sisters, Mrs. Inman W. Cooper and Miss Claribel Drake. The other surviving member of this branch of the family is his brother, E. Steele Drake, and he has a home at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

South of the site of the original Mt. Ararat house, which was destroyed by fire many years ago, Magruder Drake has built a modern farm cottage. It faces a beautiful valley filled with a variety of hardwood trees. In the spring the view from the front porch is particularly lovely as thousands of dogwood blossoms peep out from the background of this greenery.

In this house, above the mantel in the living room, hangs a likeness of Captain James Truman Magruder, reproduced from a miniature made in London. As his great-grandchildren and sometimes his great-great-grandchildren look up to this picture, they fancy that the old Captain seems well pleased to think that the land he bought more than a hundred and forty years ago is still in the hands of one of his descendants.

SOME NOTES ON CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING THE TRANSPORTING OF ALEXANDER MAC GRUETHER, AS A PRISONER OF WAR; AND HIS LANDING IN MARYLAND IN 1652

By

HERBERT T. MAGRUDER

To endeavor to piece together the fragmentary bits of tradition and fact available concerning the landing in America of our immigrant ancestor, Alexander Mac Gruether, or Magruder, as he called himself, is to take on a responsibility that cannot be considered slight. But it would, perhaps, be a grave oversight in this year 1952, the three hundredth anniversary of his landing in Lord Baltimore's proprietary colony of Maryland, not to attempt the retelling of that story. To a large extent it will be written here in the words of those who have placed in the record the results of their research.

Writing more than forty years ago, the venerable John Read Magruder, of Annapolis, a charter member of this Society, stated at the Second Gathering, held October 27, 1910, that Alexander Mac Gruether was an officer in the army of Charles II; and was taken prisoner at the battle of Worcester, by troops of the Commonwealth serving under Oliver Cromwell. He was transported via Barbadoes and Virginia to Maryland, together with other Scottish prisoners; where he became an indentured servant eventually ransoming himself. Thereafter he acquired by patent and through purchase large tracts of land, 2400 acres in all, calling them "Anchovie Hills", "Alexandria", "Craignigh", "Dunblane" and "Good Luck". Certainly Alexander must have been a man of great ability and vigor to have become in the period of twenty-five years the possessor of properties of such vast extent. A transcript of his will, executed February 12, 1676, and probated July 26, 1677, is on file in the Records Office at Annapolis. It is of interest to note that Ninian Beall, a large land-owner in Maryland, who has been called the father of Presbyterianism in America, was named overseer of that will. Obviously he was a close friend of Alexander Magruder.

In an address before the Gathering of this Society, held on October 26, 1911, Dr. Edward May Magruder, our beloved first Chieftain, of revered memory, said that there were two theories concerning Alexander Magruder's origin. One, the stronger, was that in Scotland he was a Mac Gregor; and that before or upon his arrival in this country he changed his name to MacGruether, in order to avoid any disagreeable complications that might attend the name Mac Gregor, then suffering persecution: (1603-1661, and final action restoring the name for all time in 1677). The other theory was that he was a Macruder, Mac Gruther or McGruder, before his landing in America; his family being an offshoot of Clan Gregor. Whichever of these theories is correct as to the name by which he had been known, it is certainly true that he had Mac Gregor blood in his veins.

There are to be found records of the transporting of Scottish prisoners of war to the colonies, following the disastrous defeat at Worcester of the army of Scots who had rallied to the standard of Charles II, who had been crowned King at Scone only two years after the beheading of his royal father. Charles the Second was forced to flee to France, where he remained until the Restoration in 1660. Following their defeat the wholesale banishment of the loyal Scots taken prisoners was decided upon.

The battle of Worcester was fought on the evening of Wednesday, September 3, 1651, one year to the day after Dunbar. The battle was fought on both sides of the Severn river; a part of Cromwell's forces having crossed to the western bank the night before. The fighting of the Scots under General Leslie was fierce and desperate. Cromwell rode up and down before his troops in the midst of the fire; and at one time was forced to recoil a little but only to rally and return irresistible. Although the battle raged for four or five hours, the small Scottish army was driven back through the streets of Worcester. In the end the foot soldiers of the King were virtually all killed or taken prisoner; and the horses scattered in flight. King Charles II fortunately escaped; but fourteen thousand others did not. One could weep over the loss of so many brave men in the Stuart Cause.

Oliver Cromwell wrote to the Speaker of the House of Parliament that night, after the battle. We quote from his letter in part:

"Being so weary and scarce able to write, yet I thought it my duty to let you know thus much. That upon this day . . . we beat the enemy from hedge to hedge, until we beat them into Worcester . . . They made a considerable fight with us; but in the end we beat them totally; took his Royal Fort, and turned his own guns upon him . . . The enemy has had a great loss . . . but your old forces and those newly raised have behaved with great courage . . .

What the slain are I can give you no account . . . but they are very many; because the dispute was long and very near at hand . . . There are about six or seven thousand prisoners taken here; and many Officers and Noblemen of Quality.

(Let us thank) the Lord Almighty from our hearts in real thankfulness for this, which alone is His doing . . ."

The prisoners were penned up in the Cathedral at Worcester, while their rank was determined; and Lords, Knights and Gentlemen were plucked from their lurking holes throughout the town. The victory of the forces of the Commonwealth was complete. The counter rebellion had come to a tragic ending; and it was nine years before the Restoration of the Stuarts to the throne became a reality.

We now pick up the thread of the story of the banishment of the Scottish prisoners to the colonies.

In the Transcripts of State Papers, Colonial Series, edited by W. Noel Saintsbury, and published in London by Longmans in 1860, there is recorded under date of August 8, 1651 a directive from the Council of State to the Mayor of Southampton, which reads:

"Desire him to make stay of a ship, one Price Master, about to set sail for Maryland before ships of war of the Commonwealth designed thither, which may be disadvantageous to the Service."

There is also a record under date of August 31, 1651, that Maryland and Virginia were the only two provinces that did not declare against the Parliament. And under date of September 17, 1651 there is a reference to "the Colony of Barbadoes or any other Plantations in defection of the Commonwealth."

On September 22, 1651 an Order was promulgated "directing the Commissioners for Prisoners not to pass away to plantations or otherwise dispose of any lieutenants or cornets of horse, or any above that quality; if any be already disposed of, to give private soldiers in lieu thereof."

Unfortunately no list of the names of prisoners deported has been found in the records inspected; but tradition, the basis of so much that has evolved into historical record, gives ground sufficiently firm for our belief, which has come down through generations of Magruders in America, that Alexander Mac Gruether was numbered among those on board one of the ships that were sent across the Atlantic at that time. That he came to Maryland in those years, there can be no doubt.

Research by William H. Gaines, Jr., an editor of Virginia Cavalcade, a publication of the Virginia State Library, has brought to light a record of the fact that a fleet of two warships, the JOHN and the GUINEA, and several armed merchantmen was fitted out by order of the Parliament in the summer of 1651. The ships sailed from England in the fall of that year. Among the passengers were six hundred Scottish prisoners of war, who were being sent to do penance in the colonies. The voyage was by way of Barbadoes, which was a center of Royalist resistance as was the Virginia colony. The weather at the season may also have been a factor in plotting the course; for the JOHN was lost at sea; and the GUINEA lagged behind. The merchantmen therefore arrived first off the Virginia capes in January 1652, and anchored offshore to await their armed escort. At length Governor William Berkeley of Virginia and his Council were brought to terms of submission by the Parliamentary Commissioners; and the fleet sailed up the Chesapeake to bring the Maryland colonists into line.

It is certainly probable that Alexander Mac Gruether was one of the six hundred Scots on board those transports; and it is also a safe assumption that the Maryland settlers, in spite of the traditional loyalty and indebtedness to the Royalist Stuarts, offered no resistance to acknowledging the now paramount authority of Parliament. Leonard Calvert had died in the year 1647; and William Stone, a Protestant and a supporter of Parliament was appointed Governor of Maryland in 1648. It was under Governor Stone that the Council in Maryland adopted in 1649 the famous "Toleration Act", insuring religious freedom to all faiths. It was in that year also that the Puritans settled on the shores of the Severn river, naming their countryside settlement Providence; which later became Anne Arundel County. The city which grew up to become the State Capitol was named Annapolis.

If our assumption, which was supported by the late Caleb Clarke Magruder, Jr., is correct, that Alexander Mac Gruether was among those landed from ships that arrived in the Chesapeake in the Spring of 1652, it follows logically that his progress in gaining a place of importance in the new land must have been swift and certain. In the exceedingly valuable paper which C. C. Magruder, Jr., read before the Gathering of this Society on October 27, 1911, he traces with meticulous care the various properties acquired by Alexander Magruder. We have already named them. Alexander made his home at Anchovie Hills on the banks of the Patuxent. There he died in 1677. The eight hundred acres of land that comprised the plantation of "Anchovie Hills" was devised by Alexander in his will to his wife "Eliz." for her lifetime, and after her decease to sons Alexander and Nathaniel.

To his son Samuel, Alexander devised the plantation "Good Luck", containing 500 acres of land; and to his daughter Elizabeth was devised "Craighigh", which contained 200 acres. "Dunblane", containing 325 acres, was surveyed for Alexander on June 26, 1671. It was named for the Scottish town of that name; "Dun" meaning hill, and "blane" from St. Blane, who built the cathedral, a part of which is still standing. Dunblane was left by Alexander in his will to his two sons, James and John. It seems probable that they died intestate; for the property was acquired by their brother Samuel, either as their heir or by purchase. By the will of Samuel Magruder (1) Dunblane was divided between his sons Ninian and John. It was that son John who built the present building in 1715, the oldest Magruder home now standing.

Members of American Clan Gregor Society are indeed grateful to the present owners of Dunblane, home of ancestors of so many members of this Society, for their courtesy in making possible this pilgrimage by the clanfolk to so historic a spot.

ALEXANDER LEONARD DALTON MAGRUDER

By

W. B. HAMILTON MAGRUDER

Alexander Leonard Dalton Magruder was born October 19, 1902, in San Antonio, Texas, and died December 11, 1950, at Victoria, Texas.

Dalton was the son of Alexander Leonard Covington Magruder and Alice Gray Hartwell. He attended the San Antonio Public Schools and was graduated from Texas A & M College in 1924 in Electrical Engineering.

For a year or so he was associated with his father in the banking business. In 1926 Dalton Magruder joined the Central Power and Light Company as a clerk. Shortly thereafter he went to Bay City as District Engineer. In 1939 he was transferred to Cuero, Texas, and in 1940 he was sent to Victoria, Texas, as District Manager of the Guadalupe Valley District of the Central Power and Light Company.

As a youngster Dalton was very popular and took part in all social and athletic activities. As a young man he was very sociable, popular, and a good mixer. He liked to hunt and fish and was full of pep and energy. At the time of his death he was very active in business and civic affairs of his community and was held in the highest esteem by all his friends and associates. He was a member of the American Clan Gregor Society, being member number 431.

Mr. Magruder was a director of the Victoria National Bank; a director of that Chamber of Commerce; Victoria College Trustee; past senior warden and vestryman of the Trinity Episcopal Church; past Worshipful Master of the Masonic Lodge; and past president of the Rotary Club in Victoria and Bay City. He was a very energetic person with a magnetic personality, who was loved and respected for his sterling qualities. Quoting from a letter from W. B. Callan, who was a very close friend: "Mac was Mac to me. A good many of his friends called him Dalton, and others Dolly. Mac was a wholesome Christian fellow with a keen sense of humor, always sincere, trustworthy and loyal to his friends. He would never shirk a duty and would always do more than his part on anything he was asked to do. His family came first. He was my deer hunting partner and when hunting with him, he talked with me a great deal about his wife and children, and there was nothing that he would not do for them. He was a loyal and valued employee of the Central Power and Light Company and was loved by all of his associates. Likewise, he endeared himself to all the members of the Rotary Club. All of us in the Victoria National thought so much of Magruder that we asked him to become a director of our bank, and we were very happy when he accepted. The short time that he served with us he advanced many good ideas. He was never just a listener—he would always come forth with ideas that were in general put into practice. His untimely death was a distinct loss to all that knew him, and those of us that did really know Mac should definitely be better men for having had that privilege."

On September 12, 1931 he married Jean Rockwood Watson at St. Marks Church, San Antonio, Texas, who survives him, together with two sons: A. Leonard C., who is a senior at Victoria High School; and Walter Watson, who is a Freshman at Victoria High School and a daughter, Alice Jean, who is a sophomore at the University of Texas in Austin, Texas. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. J. R. Martin of San Antonio; and a sister, Mrs. Alice Magruder Murphy, of Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

Alexander Leonard Dalton Magruder was a five times great grandson of Alexander Magruder the immigrant, through: Alexander Leonard Covington Magruder and Alice Gray Hartwell; John Burruss Magruder and Hettie Kleinpeter; William Hezekiah Nathaniel Magruder and Mary Barrett Bangs; James Truman Magruder and Elizabeth Ann Magruder; Alexander Magruder and Elizabeth Howard; Alexander Magruder and Susanna Lamar, he being the son of Alexander Magruder, Immigrant.
