MEMBERSHIP DIRECTORY

Dear Network Member:

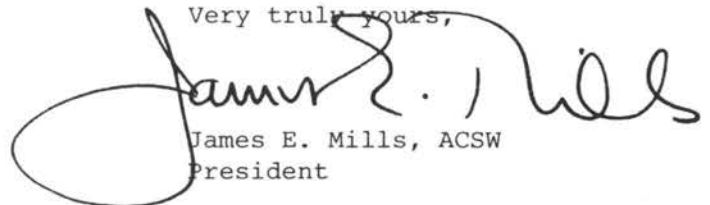

The third National Directory, MEMBERSHIP '90, continues the commitment of the National Network of Social Work Managers to providing tools to social work managers to assist them in meeting the challenges they face each day. The Directory will identify others in your geographic area or in your field of interest who share your commitments to excellence in social work management.

The compilation of a Directory such as this, particularly with the limited resources available to the Network, is a significant undertaking. Any such effort is limited by the information provided to the organization, and in spite of proofreading, yeoman work by Hal Benson, Executive Director; John Schneider, Administrator; and the administrative support, may include erroneous material. It is hoped that you will help us by identifying any errors or changes in your entry and, if you have not done so, providing the Network with the information solicited by the Interest Inventory.

The Network continues to grow - the fourth Management Conference will be held in Boston on November 14 in conjunction with the NASW - Social Work '90 Conference. Since no NASW conference is scheduled for 1991, planning is already underway for a free-standing Social Work Management Conference. The implementation "bugs" have been worked out, and all Network members should, by now, be receiving the journal, "Administration in Social Work" as another membership benefit. Mutual of America continues in their sponsorship of "The Exemplars," the Network's recognition of excellence in social work management.

You are the key to the continued growth and effectiveness of the Network. Your participation, professional contributions and efforts to recruit other social work managers into the Network are essential. If you each duplicated the enclosed membership application and attracted only two or three new managers to the Network, a giant step will have been taken towards the creation of local and state networks to further the achievement of excellence in social work management.

Very truly yours,

James E. Mills, ACSW
President

The National Network held its First National Management Conference in September 1987 in New Orleans, jointly with NASW, and the Second National Management Conference in November 1988, in Philadelphia. The Third National Management Conference was in San Francisco in October 1989.

THE NATIONAL NETWORK PURPOSES: The National Network for Social Work Managers, an independent network with members in almost all 50 States, connects social work degreed professionals engaged or interested in management, writ large. The area of management includes administration, policy, planning, budgeting, economics, legislative work, and related areas, whether in a government, non-profit, foundation, association, corporate, or educational agency.

The National Network exists to position and enhance social work managers' careers, and to act as a forum for social work manager concerns. The National Network, mindful of pressures and time constraints on executives and managers, is organized with minimal organizational structure; in essence, as a network. Network members are encouraged to continue their memberships and leadership roles in existing professional associations and endeavors. A highly diversified Network membership connected to many circles of enterprises and experiences can only bolster total Network possibilities.

The National Network is a tax-exempt 501(c)(6) organization. While contributions are not tax deductible as charitable contributions for Federal income tax purposes, they may be tax deductible under other provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.
