Dear Mr. Pentz:

The Society has been pleased to receive as a deposit by the Society of the War of 1812 in Maryland the leather hat donated to your Society in memory of Mr. Charles Carroll Cadwell by Mr. C. L. Cadwell, together with the case and projectile. These interesting relics of the War of 1812 are most welcome and will be exhibited in connection with other relics of that period.

Our thanks are due you and Mr. Englar for your kindness in making these arrangements. We have issued receipt No. 284 for this deposit, and turned it over to Mr. Englar.

Very truly yours,

Re: Society of the War of 1812, in Maryland

Dear Bill,

The Society of the War of 1812 in Maryland, has among its archives the attached list of books, presently in the home of Mr. William Henry Pitcher, which are ready to be turned over to the Historical Society.

Will you look over the attached list and advise whether or not there are any that you would not accept.

The only item that appears to be questionable would be No. 30,- "To Proceedings: General Society of the War of 1812, seven books in all". I would guess that such "Proceedings" would best be kept in the Society's Archives since the contents would not be of general or public interest.

Curtis Carroll Davis knows of this and I have had some conversations with him and he knows of the action I am now taking.

Please let me have your thoughts.

Cordially,

SVC/ac

S. Vannort Chapman
