

CELEBRATING OUR 100TH YEAR.
Through events, stories, exhibits and more this year, we've celebrated the impact The University of Baltimore has had on our city and beyond.

January 2025
LAUNCH PARTY
To kick off our Centennial Celebration, we invited a vast panel of guests to share about their experiences with UBalt. At the Centennial Exhibit Fellow, Alexander Ernst, a history major, curated a Centennial exhibit that was on display in Robert L. Bogomolny Library for the first 100 days of 2025. The exhibit highlights our 100-year history with a focus on social change and student activism, changes to its physical campus, and student publications.

April 2025
ROCK THE BLOCK
We continued our Centennial celebration with a "super-sized" edition of a beloved tradition, Rock the Block. We shut down Mt. Royal Avenue so we could welcome artists and vendors from our student and alumni communities to showcase their talents with the community.

May 2025
COMMENCEMENT
With pomp and circumstance, poetry and some surprise singing, the newest graduates of The University of Baltimore celebrated their graduations across three ceremonies in May. The graduating classes included remarkable students of all ages and backgrounds, many of whom balanced their studies with job, volunteer work and families. Some were the first in their families to receive a college degree.

OUR FUTURE IS TIMELESS

We're proud of our past—one marked with courage and innovation and fueled by passion to drive the world forward. We were founded on an idea that professional and nontraditional learning should always have a pathway to learn and improve more. Time has shown that regardless of late hours, competing priorities, even struggles beyond our control, we can rise to every challenge and come back stronger. Each piece of our history has made us who we are today and sets a strong foundation for a powerful tomorrow.

Here we invite you to explore our timeless past and take a moment to reflect on the celebration of our Centennial year.

Here we have one of those persons whose ability to do so much leaves the average person in a state of amazement. As a member of the University Players, Evelyn showed rare talent. During the year of '41 she has divided her time between aiding the allies, the law class, and getting her pilots license. A truly remarkable girl is "Parachute"

"I was introduced to the school by members of the community, faculty who were proud of the work they were doing. I came for my bachelor's, stayed for my master's degree, found two amazing mentors who taught me more than can be found in books, and now I'm back as an adjunct faculty member. I love the idea that I can continue to pass on the knowledge shared with me with the next generation of UBalt students."

OUR FUTURE IS COLLABORATIVE

Our students continuously collaborate, bringing their talents, always ready to share their skills and make their mark on the world. You'll see that impression too. But what if you could transform the way you work, too?

Our students, like Cameron, have transformative learning. Academic excellence engagement. Their value may be in the way they think, through change, love, people, and the future of our community.

And what will our work
look like?

THE BIRTH OF AN IDEA

OF BALTIMORE

1925 Nine visionaries dream up a university for working adults in the heart of Baltimore.

1925 First classes held with 176 students and 20 faculty.

1928 First commencement: 38 law graduates.

1928 Men's athletic program begins with basketball & tennis.

1929 University expands by purchasing Howard Hall, located at 840 N. Howard St.

1933 Anna W. Carton becomes the first mother in the law college's history to graduate. She brought her son, Allen, to the ceremony.

1934 Women's basketball begins and Queen Bees dominate, going on to defeat every state opponent within the next year.

1937 The bee becomes the official mascot.

1939 Student Pilot Training Program is launched and wartime courses are added.

1945 The Class of 1945 is the last to graduate due to the war.

Staff became my source of support. I emerged from that challenging time as a graduate assistant for the Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation and as vice president of student affairs for the Student Government Association, my journey reflects the true spirit of UBalt. This University has shown me that with a community like this, you can overcome the greatest challenge and rise to the occasion.
